CROSS COUNTRY RUN

second with 69 and Technology third with 98 points. The scores of the other entries were: Brown 101, M. A. C. 125, Worcester Polytechnic 130, Williams 153, and Bates 154. Captain Brown ran a steady race throughout and had little difficulty in winning the run. His time was 31m. 41 s.

Maine was the favorite before the run, although Dartmouth and Technology were admittedly dangerous competitors. The University team was the same which won last year's meet with the exception of Wunderlich, who, however, finished seventh in this year's run.

Although a stiff breeze was blowing, the day was ideal for a race and there were hundreds of spectators along the course and at the finish.

At the start, C. T. Guething of Technology took the lead and held it for nearly a mile. Brown started slowly and did not come near the front until the end of the first mile. After two miles had been covered, Lane of Bates was leading, followed by Richards of M. A. C., Sherburne of Dartmouth, Bell of Maine, Brown of M. I. T., Wunderlich of Maine, and Tucker of Dartmouth in order. The entire squad was well bunched at this stage and there were few trailers. Brown was taking it easy and evidently saving himself for the finish.

In the third mile the field began to string out, Lane was still leading, with Bell and Brown close behind. Bell took a spurt at the golf links and went into the lead but was soon afterwards passed by Brown. At this time Tucker of Dartmouth was running fourth while Aiken, the M. A. C. star had pushed into fifth place. The next five men were Richards of M. A. C., Wunderlich of Maine, Sherburne of Dartmouth and Dempsey and Prell of Maine. The rest of the line was well strung out.

Brown trailed Bell for the first five of the last mile and then started his fight for the lead. There was a neck and neck contest for almost a hundred yards but Brown was too strong for his opponent and gradually opened up a lead which he maintained to the end. Bell who had run himself out was passed by Aiken about six hundred yards from the finish and was forced to be content with third place. Tucker and Lane took fourth and fifth with about twenty yards between them. Wunderlich, Dempsey and Prell, all of Maine were the next to score and it looked like a sure thing for the Pine Tree boys, but Dartmouth gave them a scare by finishing all her scorers before the fifth Maine man hove in sight. Hysom of Maine, however, finished thirty-second, which gave his team enough of a margin.
