THE TECH

TECH THE ONLY TRUE AMATEUR INSTITUTION

That Technology would remain as the only institution with unimpaired amateur standing, if the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union were enforced strictly, is the contention of the Boston Herald in an editorial yesterday morning. The rules referred to place upon the ineligible list all teams that have played against combinations containing professional players, or who have themselves played against such teams.

The cause for trouble at the present time is the action of Trinity College in insisting on entry of the ineligible list all the fall teams which have played against combinations containing professional players. This action, the Herald says, "is the last straw that has driven the team to the wall."

The Herald asserts that the only team that has a right to claim immunity from the restrictions of the Amateur Athletic Union is Technology, because it "has been the only team which has played against combinations containing professional players, and which has done so in the belief that they were not violating the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union." The Herald points out that while the objections of the other teams have been "resounding" and "agitated," Technology has "gone about its business quietly and without the least ado."

The Herald concludes that "the only possible solution of the problem is to enforce the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union with the same strictness that they are enforced in other sports."

OFFICE HOURS.

(Daily except Saturday)

General Manager .... 8:00 to 8:00 P. M.
Managing Editor .... 8:00 to 8:00 P. M.
Assistant Managing Editor, D. E. Harlowe .... 8:00 to 4:00 P. M.
Treasurer ............ 4:00 to 6:00 P. M.

Subscriptions, $1.50 per year in advance. Single copies, 10 cents.

Thursday, November 19, 1915

"TECH ON BOYLSTON STREET."

An eminently fitting remembrance of the last year of the "Tech on Boylston Street" will be the photograph of the whole undergraduate body which is to be taken on Copley Square this afternoon. "All-Technology," the event has been advertised, and this does not mean a fifty or seventy-five percent representation. As a keepsake the photograph will be useful only if every individual finds his friends somewhere in the picture. Someone will be looking for you in the photograph, if you have played or that does in the future play. Trinity will lose its standing, and in turn every team that Trinity's opponents must be likewise affected. "And so," says the Boston Herald, "the links make a chain which reaches all the way to the far coast and back again; and in the end, of the twenty-nine members of the Intercollegiate Association, only Tech remains unscathed."

TECH SMOKER

(Continued from Page One)

The college "beater" to learn the news as the reporter must sooner or later learn to do, by presenting facts that are "new, timely, and written in a concise style." The student columnists have produced numerous clippings from papers in different sections in this country to show the nature of his work in putting the Institute before the public.

The results of the Fall elections were then read. They are as follows:

Assistant Managing Editor, D. E. Bell '17; Sporting Editor, W. J. Littlefield '17; In Charge of Wednesday Issue, J. W. Damon '18; In Charge of Thursday Issue, B. A. Thresher '18; Associate News Board, A. H. Wenzel '17; M. A. L. Bates '18; A. N. Pryor '18; H. E. B. Welch '18; R. A. Shrewsbury '18; News Staff appointments, A. W. Joslin '18, G. L. Hancock '18, M. C. Brown '19, R. G. Earmey '18, W. H. Bassett, Jr., '18, D. F. Willey '19, C. A. Cogswell '19, D. C. Sanford, Jr., '19, T. M. Shrag '19, and J. S. Whaley '19. In the circulation and business departments, O. L. Norton '18, O. H. Campana, Jr., '19, and R. V. Nastess '19 were elected to the business board and D. F. Willey '19 and W. H. Bassett, Jr., '18, were placed on the business staff.

SEA SLED LECTURE

Professor C. H. Peabody announces that a lecture will be given in Room 31, Engineering B, at 4:00 p.m. this afternoon, Monday, November 23rd, by Mr. Albert Hickman, on the Sea Sled.

I. C. A. A. A. RUN

The I. C. A. A. A. Cross Country team will run tomorrow over the Fairmount Park course, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. Cornell is considered the favorite for team honors. Brown, captain of the Technology team, is expected to make a fight for first place. The following teams will run: Brown, C. C. N. Y., Colby, Cornell, Connectic, Dartmouth, Harvard, Maine, M. I. T., Michigan, U. of P., Princeton, Syracuse, Yale.

TECH THE ONLY TRUE AMATEUR INSTITUTION

That Technology would remain as the only institution with unimpaired amateur standing, if the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union were enforced strictly, is the contention of the Boston Herald in an editorial yesterday morning. The rules referred to place upon the ineligible list all teams that have played against combinations containing professional players, or who have themselves played against such teams.

The cause for trouble at the present time is the action of Trinity College in insisting on entry of the ineligible list all the fall teams which have played against combinations containing professional players. This action, the Herald says, "is the last straw that has driven the team to the wall."

The Herald asserts that the only team that has a right to claim immunity from the restrictions of the Amateur Athletic Union is Technology, because it "has been the only team which has played against combinations containing professional players, and which has done so in the belief that they were not violating the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union." The Herald points out that while the objections of the other teams have been "resounding" and "agitated," Technology has "gone about its business quietly and without the least ado."

The Herald concludes that "the only possible solution of the problem is to enforce the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union with the same strictness that they are enforced in other sports."

OFFICE HOURS.

(Daily except Saturday)

General Manager .... 8:00 to 8:00 P. M.
Managing Editor .... 8:00 to 8:00 P. M.
Assistant Managing Editor, D. E. Harlowe .... 8:00 to 4:00 P. M.
Treasurer ............ 4:00 to 6:00 P. M.

Subscriptions, $1.50 per year in advance. Single copies, 10 cents.

Thursday, November 19, 1915

"TECH ON BOYLSTON STREET."

An eminently fitting remembrance of the last year of the "Tech on Boylston Street" will be the photograph of the whole undergraduate body which is to be taken on Copley Square this afternoon. "All-Technology," the event has been advertised, and this does not mean a fifty or seventy-five percent representation. As a keepsake the photograph will be useful only if every individual finds his friends somewhere in the picture. Someone will be looking for you in the photograph, if you have played or that does in the future play. Trinity will lose its standing, and in turn every team that Trinity's opponents must be likewise affected. "And so," says the Boston Herald, "the links make a chain which reaches all the way to the far coast and back again; and in the end, of the twenty-nine members of the Intercollegiate Association, only Tech remains unscathed."

TECH SMOKER

(Continued from Page One)

The college "beater" to learn the news as the reporter must sooner or later learn to do, by presenting facts that are "new, timely, and written in a concise style." The student columnists have produced numerous clippings from papers in different sections in this country to show the nature of his work in putting the Institute before the public.

The results of the Fall elections were then read. They are as follows:

Assistant Managing Editor, D. E. Bell '17; Sporting Editor, W. J. Littlefield '17; In Charge of Wednesday Issue, J. W. Damon '18; In Charge of Thursday Issue, B. A. Thresher '18; Associate News Board, A. H. Wenzel '17; M. A. L. Bates '18; A. N. Pryor '18; H. E. B. Welch '18; News Staff appointments, A. W. Joslin '18, G. L. Hancock '18, M. C. Brown '19, R. G. Earmey '18, W. H. Bassett, Jr., '18, D. F. Willey '19, C. A. Cogswell '19, D. C. Sanford, Jr., '19, T. M. Shrag '19, and J. S. Whaley '19. In the circulation and business departments, O. L. Norton '18, O. H. Campana, Jr., '19, and R. V. Nastess '19 were elected to the business board and D. F. Willey '19 and W. H. Bassett, Jr., '18, were placed on the business staff.

SEA SLED LECTURE

Professor C. H. Peabody announces that a lecture will be given in Room 31, Engineering B, at 4:00 p.m. this afternoon, Monday, November 23rd, by Mr. Albert Hickman, on the Sea Sled.

I. C. A. A. A. RUN

The I. C. A. A. A. Cross Country team will run tomorrow over the Fairmount Park course, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. Cornell is considered the favorite for team honors. Brown, captain of the Technology team, is expected to make a fight for first place. The following teams will run: Brown, C. C. N. Y., Colby, Cornell, Connectic, Dartmouth, Harvard, Maine, M. I. T., Michigan, U. of P., Princeton, Syracuse, Yale.

TECH THE ONLY TRUE AMATEUR INSTITUTION

That Technology would remain as the only institution with unimpaired amateur standing, if the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union were enforced strictly, is the contention of the Boston Herald in an editorial yesterday morning. The rules referred to place upon the ineligible list all teams that have played against combinations containing professional players, or who have themselves played against such teams.

The cause for trouble at the present time is the action of Trinity College in insisting on entry of the ineligible list all the fall teams which have played against combinations containing professional players. This action, the Herald says, "is the last straw that has driven the team to the wall."

The Herald asserts that the only team that has a right to claim immunity from the restrictions of the Amateur Athletic Union is Technology, because it "has been the only team which has played against combinations containing professional players, and which has done so in the belief that they were not violating the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union." The Herald points out that while the objections of the other teams have been "resounding" and "agitated," Technology has "gone about its business quietly and without the least ado."

The Herald concludes that "the only possible solution of the problem is to enforce the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union with the same strictness that they are enforced in other sports."

OFFICE HOURS.

(Daily except Saturday)

General Manager .... 8:00 to 8:00 P. M.
Managing Editor .... 8:00 to 8:00 P. M.
Assistant Managing Editor, D. E. Harlowe .... 8:00 to 4:00 P. M.
Treasurer ............ 4:00 to 6:00 P. M.

Subscriptions, $1.50 per year in advance. Single copies, 10 cents.