PROM COMMITTEE NOMINATIONS DUE

All Names Due This Afternoon—Votes Must Be Balloted By December Third.

This afternoon at four o’clock the time limit for nominations for members of the Junior Prom Committee will expire. Up to time of going to press the total of the nominations handed in at the Cage amounts to only three. It is felt by E. P. Brooks, the chairman of the committee, that the number of nominations is so meager, that the Chairman, there are to be five men on the Prom Committee, ‘Chairman Brooks’ feels that the members of the class should be more active in the matter, and is confident that, being alive to the fact that there are so few names thus far proposed, they will act accordingly. The proper form of nomination is with the endorsement of ten members of the Junior class. The nominating list must have been signed by each member of the class will receive a ballot by mail by Monday, the time limit for nominations for members of the Junior class. The nominating list must have been signed by each member of the class.

CRIPPLED SOLDIERS

European War Expert To Speak At Engineers’ Club.

Next Tuesday evening at 8:00 o’clock there will be a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at the Engineers’ club. Mr. Frank B. Gilbreth will speak, his subject being “Motion Study—For Crippled Soldiers.” Mr. Gilbreth has made a most thorough study of the problem presented by the immense number of cripples returned from service in the European War, and in his researches abroad has crossed more than a dozen frontiers. He considers that its solution is one of the most imperative and immediate tasks which will devolve upon mankind at the close of this war. The work of the fencing team will be started after the meeting to be held in the Union on Monday afternoon, November 25, at five o’clock. The outlook for a good team is exceedingly promising. Among the members of last year’s team who are back this year are Clark, Heim, Macme, Stafford and Shakespeare. Macme was the captain of last year’s team. He is considered as almost sure of winning the inter-collegiate sabre championship owing to his wonderful showing at Annapolis last year, when he defeated the

CHESS SEASON BEGINS

This evening the chess team will open the season with their first match against the Boston Athenaeum. The games will be played at the latter’s rooms, beginning at 8.00 p.m. Competing, as it does the strongest and most mature players of the city, the Boston Chess Club is the most formidable opponent which may be met in The Metropolitan League. The members of the club have been fortunate in scoring a game or two out of six against them.
