their first year of study here, and later extend it to all men entering with advanced standing.

Because of the fact that so many of our students are graduates of other colleges it is but fair that the Advisory Council should take up this matter seriously and make such changes in the rules as are fair to all concerned.

I might add that the willingness of other colleges to have graduates play in this form is shown by the fact that so many of our students are graduates of other colleges.

The mission under the inducement of this competition might be made more interesting by the country having no financial aid than it did in the right way.

The Alumni Banquet
