The nearest Cambridge bank to the Institute is the Central Trust Company, its main office is at No. 209 Massachusetts Avenue, exactly at the present entrance and exit of the Central Square Station of the Cambridge subway.

The Central Trust Company is not only the oldest bank in Cambridge—the business having been established in 1826—but it is also the largest bankers' trust company in Massachusetts. This institution has been built up by the steady progress of its business and increased its capital by the high character of the service it renders to the public.

The Central Trust Company believes that its depositors make an investment when they entrust funds to its care. This bank has always paid four per cent on saving accounts and interest begins on the deposit brought to the bank. The rate paid is 50 per cent interest on the balance over and above $100.
