CREW RACE

ment have wished it to be expressly stated that rowing is not to be made an exclusive sport at the Institute. The management wishes all undergraduates or members of the Faculty interested in rowing to back this form of physical exercise and take an active part in its institution in the Institute. It is not demanded of a man that he be able to row. The main thing to bear in mind is that they wish the co-operation of everyone. The proper form of rowing is not a hard thing to acquire, and the ones at the head of rowing think that the Institute is fortunate in having a man for a coach that is an authority on the subject. The patience that Mr. Stevens has exhibited in his training of the squad and his continual interest in its welfare has been a marvel to the men that have worked under him. He has devoted his time and in certain instances his financial resources, to meet the demands of the crew, and for this he has received no compensation from the Institute. If a man from another college can manifest such an interest in an alien university, surely each student of the Institute can at least back the results of his coaching, is the opinion of Captain E. F. Deacon, '17, of the varsity.

Harvard University has very courteously offered Technology the use of one of her shells and a launch for this race. Mr. Stevens, Dr. Rowe and Dr. Rockwell will follow the shells in the launch and officiate at the finish. It is to be hoped by the men in charge that Technology will rise to the occasion and offer the proper encouragement that this courtesy and the men who have faithfully worked for the success of this race demands.

The final lineup of the two crews is as follows:

1919—Bow, Gibson; 2, McIntosh; 3, Luykx; 4, Homer; 5, Quick (Capt.); 6, Hackett; 7, Deacon; 8, Lundquist; Cox., Webber. Average weight, 165 lb.

1920—Bow, Allen; 2, Schildbach; 3, Libby; 4, Keller; 5, Higgins; 6, Burroughs; 7, Bigelow (Capt.); 9, McNear; Cox., Dana. Average weight, 151 lb. Captain Edmund Bigelow of the decisions and swarmed upon the field, while it required police interference to clear the field in order to continue the game.

The other game of the season came this week when the team went to Cambridge and defeated the Harvard 2nd freshmen. This was strictly a practice game.

Soph Team Short on Practice

During the early part of the season the Sophomores' greatest handicap has been the lack of men and scrimmage practice, but during the last three weeks the squad attendance rose and the much needed scrimmage was obtained.

The team entering today's game is somewhat lighter than the freshmen, a fact which does not bother the Sophomores, who are playing on the basis of "the bigger they come the harder they fall." The probable lineup to start the game will be: Rasmussen, r. e.; Orcutt, r. t.; Murdough, r. g.; Falkener, c.; Strowbridge, l. g.; Shippey, l. t.; Clarkson, l. e.; Davis, q. b.; Thomas, l. h. b.; Young, r. h. b.; Merrill, f. b.

The 1920 football team is ready for the game. The men are in magnificent condition and eager for the fray. Coach Johnson expects the team to put up a strong fight for victory, in spite of the fact that the freshman chances for victory seem to have been materially lessened by the Sophomore win over the Harvard Second freshman football team. The 1920 men were defeated by the same team a few weeks ago. Captain Nathan summed up his team's chances in the following words: "We have worked hard and practiced hard every day, and the men have turned out well and showed their spirit. If we are defeated, it won't be because we didn't try."

In comparison with the Sophomores the team has had a relatively unsuccessful season. Their first game was with Waltham High and was lost by the score of 7-0. The Harvard second freshmen were then played, and again the team lost, 6-0. In this game, however, the freshmen were outweighed 15 pounds to the man, so that this defeat is not so bad. The last game played was with Newton High, and due to the splendid forward passing of the Newton men the team lost again, 20-13. Since then, however, the team has been steadily improving, and a royal battle should be witnessed this afternoon.

The freshmen are a very heavy team. The average weight of the men composing the present lineup is 172 pounds. The line is especially heavy, the men in this department averaging 178 pounds. In the backfield the average is a little less, falling to 159. The freshmen are, on an average, 16 pounds heavier per man, and with this superiority in weight they hope to more than offset the Sophomores' speed and agility. Strange to say, the Sophomores average a year older than the fresh-
