COMMITTEE MEETING

House Committee of New Dormitories to Meet

A meeting of the House Committee of the New dormitories will be held Monday evening at 7.15 o'clock, Room 4-201. The committee meets for the purpose of drawing up tentative rules for the government of the dormitories. The four section committees will meet Wednesday evening in Room 2-191 to ratify or amend these rules. Plans for a big house warming to be held soon will also be perfected.

A. R. Brooks '17 was elected chairman of the House Committee, not F. S. Conaty, as announced in last Friday's issue of The Tech. The latter was appointed secretary of the Committee.

INSTITUTE PICTURES

Boston Sunday Herald Features New Technology

Under the title "The Outfit Which Puts Tech At Top Among Schools Of Its Kind" the Boston Sunday Herald devoted an entire page of its Rotogravure section to views of the new Institute and its equipment. The various things featured were exterior views of the large Ionic colonnade of the main entrance, and one of the Classical Lamps in the Grand Court. The interior pictures were of the inside of the main lobby from the second floor balcony, one of the chemical laboratories, the switchboard in the Electrical Laboratory, and of the great Mechanical Laboratory.

T. C. A. CAMPAIGN

Mr. Cushman of the T. C. A. states that to date that organization has added about five hundred and seventy dollars to its treasury during the financial campaign.

EIGHTH USES INSTITUTE SPUR

In order to facilitate work upon equipment cars, the Institute has allowed the militia to use its spur track for the last two days. As it was impossible to permit the cars to stand for any length of time on the main track, and as it was necessary to have them close to the armory, the request for the use of the spur was made by the Colonel. In addition to permitting the use of the spur, the Institute has furnished such tools and assistance as has been necessary.

STUDENT DRILL

The student drill in the freshman class is now well under way. Under building 1 the guns and belts are arranged and numbered, and the members report at either the athletic field or the armory. All those who have had previous experience in drilling have been given non-commissioned positions. These in charge of the regiment warn the members that every day of drill there will be a poster put on the bulletin board in the main entrance of Building 10, stating whether the drill will be in the armory or on the athletic field.

SENIOR SECRETLY MARRIED

The secret marriage of a Technology Senior was revealed yesterday by the announcement that Miss Charlotte Bradford Goodwin, daughter of Arthur H. Goodwin of Brookline, had wedded Franklin Closson Dexter '17. The young couple were married four months ago, and planned to keep their secret until the groom should have completed his course in electrical engineering.

To cover his identity the groom gave his address on the marriage license as 16 Causeway St., City, and his occupation as "electrician." At 16 Causeway St. lives Mrs. Mary Johnson, who takes in roomers. She remembers Dexter—"Yes, a tall, good-looking boy" who came there late in July, hired a room for a week, never slept in it, but when he paid her asked her to keep any mail that might come for him, and later claimed two letters.

TECHNIQUE ELECTION

F. W. Neff '18 was elected Assistant Art Editor of Technique at a meeting of the Art Department last Wednesday. Mr. Neff was chosen for his capability of fulfilling the Art Department standard of "the best man for the place."

Senator Lafontaine is a Belgian by birth and is now on the "committee investigating German atrocities in Belgium."
