BANKING AND SAFE DEPOSIT

The nearest Cambridge bank to the Institute is the Central Trust Company. Its main office is at No. 599 Massachusetts Avenue, exactly at the easterly entrances and exits of the Central Square Station of the Cambridge subway.

The Central Trust Company is not only the oldest bank in Cambridge—the business having been established in 1826—but it also is the largest suburban trust company in Massachusetts. This institution has built up its business and increased its clientele by the high character of the service it renders to the public.

On checking accounts two per cent. interest is allowed. This bank has always paid four per cent. on savings accounts and interest begins on the first day of each month. There is no limit to the amount which may be deposited in the savings department. The safe deposit vault is on the ground floor and the rates are one-half the Boston rentals. This company also has a large foreign exchange business. The members of the Technology faculty who are storing valuable books and manuscripts can have their books and papers much more accessible by having them in the Central Trust Company vaults. The company calls for and delivers storage without charge.

The business hours of the Central Trust Company are very convenient and will meet the requirements of both the members of the faculty and the students of the Institute. The bank's doors are open every day, except Saturday, from eight A. M. to four P. M., and on Saturdays the hours are from eight A. M. to one P. M. and from six to eight in the evening. Saturday evening all departments are open and all lines of the company's business are transacted.

Banking business may be transacted by mail, as this company has facilities for expediting and safe-guarding any business transacted through the mails. Deposits in the Central Trust Company may be made at any United States mail box.

The professors and students of the Institute will find that the Central Trust Company is mindful of their special needs and that it offers them a banking service that is not only highly efficient, but that is also cordial and neighborly.—Adv.

over largely to metallography, the study of the structure of alloys. Complete equipment for microscopic and photo-microscopic work will be provided.

The mining department will not occupy all of the space in the building; almost one-sixth of the total floor area will go to chemistry, history and physics, which will devote most of the space to office rooms on the first and second floors.

The exterior finish of the building will be of yellow Roman brick trimmed with Bedford limestone. There will be an imposing stone porch on the east facade of the building. This entrance will be the principal one for people reaching the Institute via the Kendall Square Station.
