BE A GOOD CITIZEN

A T NO COLLEGE is the charge of government more severely pressed in the hands of the students themselves than at Technology. Here the ruling power is invested in the Faculty and in the student Institute Committee, whose function is "to keep in touch with every branch of student life for purposes of investigation and constructive criticism." The Committee is a truly representative assembly, to which all questions regarding the condition of student society—thefortnightly Walker Memorial. It is a respected power and court of appeal.

The general student body should know by this time that the meetings of the Institute Committee are public meetings. If they were not, it is for which that representative body was created would be defeated. As it is, any student has the liberty to address the Committee on any item of communal interest. Simply because functionaries are elected as representatives of a particular group or activity does not mean that casting a vote for such a representative ends the matter as far as the voter is concerned. As in civic or municipal affairs the voters should themselves take an active interest in the work of the council. Unless the students who consider themselves good citizens of our little universe, give the attention that should be given to the actions of their Committee, they must indeed be passive and disinterested. The parliamentary room is 306. The convenient hour of 5 P. M. is set for the conclaves. All students are invited to attend the committee meetings and all should make the meeting a part of their regular schedule.

THOSE LOST MAGAZINES

BEFORE our transfer to the higher side of the Charles, the students were provided with a considerable selection of current periodicals, delivered then to the Union at Trinity Place. Since moving, however, the supply of magazines appears to be suspended. The present gathering rooms for students have not accumulated a desideratum in the way of periodical literature; and the fate of the subscriptions formerly delivered at the Union is a mystery. Why not add to the homelike appearance of 175, to be suspended; the present gathering rooms for students have the meeting Place. Since moving—however, the supply of magazines appears of our little universe, give the attention that should be given to particular group, or activity does not mean that casting a vote because functionaries are elected as representatives of a property to address the Committee on any item of communal interest. The Lounger's all-pervading gaze has not lost sight of the fact that the Musical Club has fortunately installed an organ in each of its halls, nor, he may seem to have ignored the little circumstance, was the significance of all lost upon him. Is it not every activity which, like our galaxy of unfelt-comes, has the wisdom to provide the means of waking from the blue of corporeal existence.
