WAYS AND MEANS REPORT

The method of collection is deemed advisable because:—

1. It is most convenient and efficient for all concerned.
2. Being advertised in the Institute bulletins, it will not appear to new men to be an extra, unexpected charge.
3. It will eliminate the necessity of expending great time and effort in educating the entire student body to the point where 100 per cent. of them will realize the necessity of such dues.
4. It has proven its value in institutions of higher education all over the country. Although your committee believes Technology is capable of independently meeting its problems, it nevertheless believes a thorough knowledge of conditions at contemporary institutions to be advisable, and has therefore compiled statistics of 35 Colleges, with the following result.

Status of Taxation in Other American Colleges

In order to benefit by the experience of other American colleges along the line of a compulsory student tax for undergraduate activities, your committee has been in correspondence with some fifty colleges. These institutions have been chosen as representing the small, large, purely academic, and purely scientific colleges of the country, and the data obtained we feel to be very representative of the status of taxation in American colleges. To date replies have been received.

No. of replies received	35
No. with tax compulsory by college authority	18
No. with tax compulsory by strong sentiment	6
No. with no tax	11

Average tax in 18. comp. colleges	$6.70
Average tax in six sent. colleges	10.15
Average tax in both	7.60
Average amount going to athletics	6.10

In seven out of the 24 colleges the tax was for athletics alone. In nearly all of the eleven colleges having no tax it was stated that their receipts were more than enough to pay expenses, thus making unnecessary any athletic tax which seems to be the principal item in the other college taxes.

Consideration of the Plan on the Per Capita Basis

As income and expenditure would, practically throughout, vary directly as the student registration, it would be advisable, in the absence of extraordinary circumstances, to increase the expenditures of the five groups in the same ratios. This would be equivalent to reducing the cost schedule to the following per capita basis, assuming a membership of 1800 requires the above estimated funds:

Institute Committee	$0.17
Classes	.78
Athletics	2.50
Walker Memorial	2.22
Health Insurance	.56
	$6.23

Your committee has collected the accompanying material, of which it will file a detailed report, should the Institute Committee desire to use the same in petitioning the Corporation. It also wishes to thank the Institute Committee for this opportunity to gather material which it believes will be of value to the Institute.

Very respectfully submitted,
The Committee on Ways and Means.
