PROFESSOR PETERS

presentation of practice, he wrote two books, the "Principles of Copper Smelting" in 1907, and "The Practice of Copper Smelting" in 1911, which have been well received by the metallurgical fraternity. A few years ago the Freiberg School of Mines conferred upon the author and professor the degree of Doctor of Engineering.

While the engineering career of Professor Peters has been brilliant, his teaching has been not less successful. He had the gift of bringing in an agreeable manner before his students clearly and convincingly what he had to say; the students liked him and he liked the students. Kindness and unselfishness are characteristics which a student-body appreciates readily.

Since the affiliation of the Harvard Graduate School of Applied Science with the Institute, the inborn wish to help made itself manifest in the new surroundings, so that his new colleagues quickly learned to appreciate the lovable character of the man.

With the death of Professor Peters, the metallurgical world has lost one of its American pioneers, the teaching profession a conscientious and enthusiastic man, and the personal associate a true friend.

FRESHMAN MEETING

There will be a special meeting of all the members of the freshman class at noon at 1.15. But let it be understood the meeting is not official. The meeting will be called in Room 2-045 and "Refreshments" will be served. It seems more or less mysterious, but the chair man of the meeting informs all men that it is a question of upholding the good name of the class. Full particulars will appear in Friday's Tech.

INSTITUTE COMMITTEE

At a meeting of the 1919 Governing Board Monday, E. F. Deacon '19 and W. B. Shippey '19 were elected to fill the places made vacant on the Institute Committee by the resignations of A. E. Griffin '19 and A. E. Garnsey '19.

NAVAL MILITIA MEET

Track Men to Represent Tech at Hartford Tonight—Outlook Good

The Naval Militia Meet is to be held at the Hartford Armory tonight. Technology will be represented in the one-mile relay by two members of last year's team, Bent and Doon, and two freshmen, Ormon and Sale. This team will meet Bowdoin. The two-mile relay team to meet Dartmouth is composed of Halfacre, Herzog, McCarten and Stevens. Better results are expected by Coach Kanaly from this year's team than from those of previous years which have gone to Hartford. Dartmouth's two-mile team consists of Lagay, R. Holbrook, S. Holbrook, Duffy and Chase. Dartmouth has twice nosed out Technology's two-mile men in the home stretch, winning each time by a close margin.

Technology's one-mile team has not lost a race in four years and feels confident of making it five straight. The train by which the squad goes to Hartford will leave South Station today at 12 A. M. and Trinity Place at 12.04 o'clock.
