T. C. A. DINNER

Dr. Gray, in response to the toast of the evening, brought up the question of the possible future relationship between the family and the student. He said that the T. C. A. should consider the student relationship as one which is basically a personal one, a deep and sincere one. He recommended that the T. C. A. develop this kind of relationship between the faculty and the student. He said that the T. C. A. should aim to be a community of students, to be a community of men.

Mr. Cushlman was recommended by the president for the work which he has done as a student. He has been a member of the T. C. A. for four years and has been active in all its activities. He has been a leader in the T. C. A. and has been a good student. He is a good athlete and has been a member of the track team.

Professor Wickenden emphasized the importance of the T. C. A. in the development of the student. He said that the T. C. A. is a place where students can develop their social and intellectual abilities.
