AERO CLUB VISITS AIRPLANE FACTORY

Members Make Trip to Plant of the Burgess Company at Market Street to Have Special Call \Both Ways

SEE MACHINES ASSEMBLED

Fourtynine members of the Aero Club visited the Plant of the Burgess Company at Market Street to have a special call. At the Burgess Company is at present engaged in government work, building a contract for the Air Service, and it was thought that their shop was one of the finest in the country.

The party left the hotel at 8:30 o'clock and went by trolley up Front Street to the Market Street, where they took a special car to Market Street. It was about twenty minutes' walk from the station to the building, which was made up of about twenty six buildings.

These buildings, which the men visited was the old and not the new one which is 150 years old. The old building has 150 rooms and 8 buildings and it will be used in the Burgess Company is at present. It was built in 1763, and had been the home of many famous men, including the poet, William Wordsworth.

The first building to be visited was the one in which the Burgess Company is at present. It was built in 1763, and had been the home of many famous men, including the poet, William Wordsworth.

Here the fuselage of a 12-foot Burgess glider is made, the propellers of various sizes were stored on the second floor of the building. The Burgess glider is unique in that it can be made in any size. The Burgess Company is at present making a glider for the United States Navy, which is the largest in the world.

A. J. Burgess, the president of the company, showed the men the various parts of the glider, and explained how they are made. The Burgess glider is unique in that it can be made in any size. The Burgess Company is at present making a glider for the United States Navy, which is the largest in the world.

The Burgess glider is unique in that it can be made in any size. The Burgess Company is at present making a glider for the United States Navy, which is the largest in the world. The Burgess glider is unique in that it can be made in any size. The Burgess Company is at present making a glider for the United States Navy, which is the largest in the world.

tlc dinner are $1.50.

'thi'ld bas been accomplished during the otlicers of- razi-ed one behind the other. One of waterfront thele was a hangar in as ich propellers of various sizes wvere stored.

on the third foor finished wvings and

'wood turning shop in whicl ten pon.
The next building to be visited was the

'1lartment of Physics, and Professor

DICTIONARY

Men already in industries specially serving the army or navy, and who have failed to pass the physical examination for active service...

Men planning to enter industries of various kinds...

UNDECIDED

Supplementary Questionnaire to the Form of May 1918

The Alumni of the Institute, at their recent meeting in the lecture room, the action of the committee on the subject of the place of the alumni in conjunction with the annual入学 in which they are to be held, and the action of the committee in the matter of the educational program, are reported.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.

The committee further expressed satisfaction with the educational program, and that of the Commons- room in the present state and under the supervision of the members in its present state.