A long, low-hung body of smart design such as distinguishes the Marmon 34 is impossible to effect without designing chassis to fit body as well as body to fit chassis.

Such a body cannot be set on an old chassis. Yet it is important not only to the appearance of the car but also to its comfort.

It is in the unification of body and chassis that one is practically an integral part of the other—that you find one of the important features of the Marmon 34.

A car that inspires pride of ownership cannot be deficient in any of the smallest particulars.

Considered as a complete whole the Marmon represents the maximum in motoring.
