TRACK CAPTAIN OPTIMISTIC OVER OUTLOOK FOR SUCCESSFUL SEASON
Full athletes at Technology are now working hard to prepare for the new season, and although most of the athletes have not returned this year, the team has not suffered as greatly as was feared. Many of the members of the team who were expected to return have not yet arrived, and it is feared that they may not return at all. The team is not expected to win any important races this season, but it is expected to perform well in some of the minor races. The team is under the leadership of Capt. W. H. Wright, who is expected to do a fine job of coaching.
