Consecration to Be Called by President
on Receipt of Washington Message

Since the publication of the notice that President Macauley will call a consecration, there has been considerable unrest on the part of the undergraduates. The most important of the groups of undergraduates is the magazine. The magazine has announced that it will not publish the issue of November 15, and that it will not resume publication until the consecration has been announced.

The Territorial Board of Architects and Engineers has appointed a committee to investigate the matter. The committee consists of Messrs. A. J. Brown, T. H. Dorr, and W. H. Dorr.

The committee has been instructed to report to the board at its next meeting, which is to be held on November 20.

The board will then decide whether or not to recommend the consecration to the University Council.

The University Council will then decide whether or not to recommend the consecration to the President.

The President will then decide whether or not to recommend the consecration to the Board of Trustees.

The Board of Trustees will then decide whether or not to recommend the consecration to the University.

If the University approves the consecration, it will be announced in the University Calendar.

The consecration will take place on Monday, November 18, at 7:00 P.M., in the Tech Office.

The President will then declare the University open for business.

The University will then be open for business.

The President will then declare the University closed for business.

The University will then be closed for business.

The President will then declare the University open for business.

The University will then be open for business.

The President will then declare the University closed for business.

The University will then be closed for business.