PRESIDENT MACLAURIN SPEAKS ON ENLISTMENT AND DRAFT PROBLEMS

Advises Preparation For Later Service As a Patriotic Duty and Discusses Reasons Given For Present Enlistment

That the draft relieves every citizen from the responsibility of enlisting was the gist of President Maclaurin's address at the last Sunday's convocation held in Smith Hall, room 109. The President spoke considerably on the problems that confront Technology. He warned against any indication of being drafted, and dispelled the fears of some of the younger men in regard to the age limit. He urged the students to prepare for service later, not to rush into it, unprepared and capable of filling only a minor position.
