CHRISTMAS AND THE WAR.

CHRISTMAS has come and gone, but the spirit of this Yule tide will remain with us for some time to come. This is the first Christmas since the world went to war, and undoubtedly there was rejoicing. But who can but feel deeply hearted in view of the present world crisis? We are heavy-hearted, but we can and must be optimistic. War is terrible (this seems a mere platitude, but it expresses the fact), but it cannot last forever. We have gone into the war with a crisis? We are heavy-hearted, but we

TRAVEL in the Pacific areas is practically empty. Conservation is in order,

WRENSHAW found the time to make one final appearance in the Christmas vacation of three weeks. He will return early in the New Year, and will be ready to carry on. He will have with him a splendid band of cars, and will be ready to meet the best musical requirements of any organization.

THE UNIVERSITY of Michigan will hold a meeting of the alumni association on December 28th, at Detroit. The meeting will be held in the Michigan Union, and will be addressed by President Hussey.
