ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY HEADS HEARS
OF DESTRUCTION OF REIMS CATHEDRAL

Professor Gram Describes Vividly the Bombardment of One of the Greatest Works of Art

The members of the Architectural Society were prepared for the gravity of the subject, and the gentlemen of the class were dressed for the occasion. The meeting took place in the great hall of the College. The minute had been sounded, and the chairman was invited to open the meeting with prayer. Professor Gram then took the floor and delivered an address on the subject of the destruction of Reims Cathedral. He began by describing the beauty and majesty of the cathedral, and then went on to relate the story of the bombardment. He spoke of the horror and devastation that the Germans inflicted on the city, and the particular blow that fell upon the cathedral. He described the scene of desolation and the fragments of the cathedral that were left standing. The meeting ended with a vote of thanks to Professor Gram for his excellent address.
