MUSICAL CLUB IN COMBINED CONCERT

Technology and Wellesley Give Joint Concerts in Wellesley Town Hall for the Benefit of the Red Cross

FOLLOWED BY DANCING

The war-time weakened social enterprises of the Institute received a welcome respite at the close of each concert. There have been the heartiest approbation throughout the past three years that Wellesley and Technology have held joint social functions and the heartiest approval at the close of each concert. There was no reason to expect any such occasion and that was the exceedingly rare period provided for dancing.

Perhaps the most notable fact of the concerts was the fine number of students attending by the Technology glee club. All who were present were so cordial and competent that the music was a delight to the ears and a pleasure to the heart. The order of the songs, the variety and the content of them was such as to be a source of satisfaction to all.

The concerts were held in the Town Hall. The hall was quite small, the audience was quite large, and the enjoyment of all was high.

The first concert was held on Thursday, February 21, at 8:45 p.m. The second concert was held on Friday, February 22, at 8:15 p.m.

The concerts were a great success. They were well attended and the assembled crowd was highly appreciative of the music and the dancing.
