AMERICAN RAGTIME AS FAMILIAR OVER THERE AS HERE, SAYS "PENN" BROOKS' 17
Former Institute Man Writes of Experiences on Trip to Old France—Declares Germans Will Stop All Right At All Times!

ELT. E. Brooks '97, who is now in France with the ragtime writers, enters a exceedingly interesting mediating arrival "over there." He sends the following letter from "Penn" Brooks, describing his experiences as the newsmaker, as printed in another issue of The Tech.

His first letter follows:

I was billeted in a house near the place where we started our journey, partly by the light of a little green lamp, by the light of a little green lamp, by the light of a little green lamp, by the light of a little green lamp. In the...

All Walker Memorial Dining Rooms
Are Open to All Tech Men NOW
Open Daily and Sunday

The New Fall ARROW COLLAR

E. F. Brooks '97, who is now in France with the ragtime writers, enters an exceedingly interesting mediating arrival "over there." He sends the following letter from "Penn" Brooks, describing his experiences as the newsmaker, as printed in another issue of The Tech. His first letter follows:

I was billeted in a house near the place where we started our journey, partly by the light of a little green lamp, by the light of a little green lamp, by the light of a little green lamp, by the light of a little green lamp. In the...