PRESIDENT MACLAURIN TELLS ABOUT WORK OF COOPERATIVE COURSES

Speaks of Relations With Harvard in Report to Corporation—Declares Technology Can Stand Alone Financially

After circumscribing the major events of administration of the past year, President MacLaurn, in his report to the members of the Corporation, also said that although the trend of the times towards co-operation in education, especially in industrial matters. To illustrate how the institute is participating in this movement, President MacLaurn discusses at length the various courses now being given by Technology in connection with some of the large manufacturing companies. The second section of his report, which figures prominently in the report is the proposed co-operation with another educational institution. Harvard University.

ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY

The Architectural Society of the Technological Collegia of Philadelphia, under the presidency of Mr. S. C. Johnson, held an annual meeting at the College on May 16th, 1919. The meeting was attended by a large number of members, who were interested in the progress of the Society.

The Secretary reported that the Society had made good progress during the past year, and that the membership had increased by a large number. The financial report showed a surplus of $200, which was placed in the treasury.

The President, Mr. S. C. Johnson, in his address, spoke of the important work being done by the Society, and of the need for more active participation by the members. He called upon the members to work hard in order to make the Society a real force in the field of architecture.

The Treasurer, Mr. J. A. Smith, presented the financial report, which showed a surplus of $200. The Secretary then reported the proceedings of the last meeting, and the minutes were adopted.

The President then presented a paper on the progress of the Society during the past year. He spoke of the successful work done by the Society in the field of architecture, and of the need for more active participation by the members.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 o'clock.

On (continued page 3)

STATE CHARGES LOST

In the State of Pennsylvania, the State Board of Education has been granted the power to charge fees for the use of the educational institutions. The State Board of Education has been granted the power to charge fees for the use of the educational institutions.

The State Board of Education has been granted the power to charge fees for the use of the educational institutions.

ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY

The Architectural Society of the Technological Collegia of Philadelphia, under the presidency of Mr. S. C. Johnson, held an annual meeting at the College on May 16th, 1919. The meeting was attended by a large number of members, who were interested in the progress of the Society.

The Secretary reported that the Society had made good progress during the past year, and that the membership had increased by a large number. The financial report showed a surplus of $200, which was placed in the treasury.

The President, Mr. S. C. Johnson, in his address, spoke of the important work being done by the Society, and of the need for more active participation by the members. He called upon the members to work hard in order to make the Society a real force in the field of architecture.

The Treasurer, Mr. J. A. Smith, presented the financial report, which showed a surplus of $200. The Secretary then reported the proceedings of the last meeting, and the minutes were adopted.

The President then presented a paper on the progress of the Society during the past year. He spoke of the successful work done by the Society in the field of architecture, and of the need for more active participation by the members.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 o'clock.

On (continued page 3)

STATE CHARGES LOST

In the State of Pennsylvania, the State Board of Education has been granted the power to charge fees for the use of the educational institutions. The State Board of Education has been granted the power to charge fees for the use of the educational institutions.

The State Board of Education has been granted the power to charge fees for the use of the educational institutions.

ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY

The Architectural Society of the Technological Collegia of Philadelphia, under the presidency of Mr. S. C. Johnson, held an annual meeting at the College on May 16th, 1919. The meeting was attended by a large number of members, who were interested in the progress of the Society.

The Secretary reported that the Society had made good progress during the past year, and that the membership had increased by a large number. The financial report showed a surplus of $200, which was placed in the treasury.

The President, Mr. S. C. Johnson, in his address, spoke of the important work being done by the Society, and of the need for more active participation by the members. He called upon the members to work hard in order to make the Society a real force in the field of architecture.

The Treasurer, Mr. J. A. Smith, presented the financial report, which showed a surplus of $200. The Secretary then reported the proceedings of the last meeting, and the minutes were adopted.

The President then presented a paper on the progress of the Society during the past year. He spoke of the successful work done by the Society in the field of architecture, and of the need for more active participation by the members.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 o'clock.

On (continued page 3)