NOMINATIONS CLOSED FOR
E. L. SOCIETY OFFICERS

The nominations for the officer of the E. L. Society have been closed, and arrangements are being made for the election of the officers as soon as the committee and the officers of the society probably be held during the coming week. Every member of the elected officers may have an opportunity to become acquainted with the E. L. Officers.

The nominations show the following candidates:

President: 4. H. R. Boyd '21

Vice-Presidents: T. L. Rivers '21, P. F. O'Keefe '21,

Treasurer: G. B. Conner '20

Secretary: D. E. H. McPhee '20

We recommend all members to support those whom they consider the best men for the office and choose the ones whom they consider to elect. Every man should carefully examine the list of names of men nominated for office and voting for him. It is for the benefit of the members, and it is for the honor of the class to be careful whom they elect.

The election will take place on Monday, March 18, 1918.

CLASS ELECTIONS

Withn the next week the annual class elections will be held to fill the offices of next year. This is a subject well worthy of serious consideration, and for the benefit of the freshmen we shall give the general line.

Before a man can be a candidate for an office he must be a member of his own class sign his nomination paper. This paper is then handed in to the election committee, which makes out the ballots and sets the day for the election. The voting is by the Australian ballot, and the man receiving the most votes for a particular position wins.

Some men may think that class officers do not amount to anything, and that they are merely a burden on the class. The dormitory committee must be submitted to the editor. The Tech is a voice for the students, and it is for the honor of the class to be careful

The dormitory committee is a body of men who are elected by the students to look after the interests of the dormitory. They are in charge of the dormitory and are responsible for the good order of the place. They are also responsible for the safety of the dormitory and the protection of the students who live in it.

The dormitory committee is also responsible for the cleanliness of the dormitory, and for the maintenance of the equipment. They are responsible for the upkeep of the dormitory, and for the provision of the necessary supplies.

The dormitory committee is also responsible for the enforcement of the rules of the dormitory. They are responsible for the punishment of any student who violates the rules, and for the protection of the rights of the students.

The dormitory committee is also responsible for the maintenance of the good order of the dormitory. They are responsible for the prevention of any disorder, and for the protection of the rights of the students.
