INSTITUTE RECEIVES A NEW SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The battle of the estate of the late Joselyn S. Bailey, who operated a department store on Washington street for many years, will eventually go to Charities.

Annie D. Bailey, the widow, is given $5000 outright and the home at Grafton street and Cary street, Boston.

The remainder of his property is given to the trust of Emman C. Allen and Allen B. Bailey. They are instructed to pay his adopted daughter, Vincent B. Butler of Newton, the sum of $500 as an annuity, which is to be increased to $5000 upon the death of her husband, Morris F. Butler.

The First Parish Church of Watertown and the Boston Country Club for Blind Babies are each given $5000 each.

The Old Colony and the Boston Vegetable Exchange.

The balance of the income is to be paid to Mrs. Bailey, and after her death to her adopted daughter, Movia F. Butler.

When the last beneficiary has died, the trust fund is to be distributed among the House for Aged Couples, the Home for Aged Men and the Home for Aged Women.

It is the wish of the late Mr. Bailey that the name of his wife shall be used in connection with the establishment of the institution.

INSTITUTE HAS A NEW SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The division of General Bailey's property in the trust of Elman C. Allen and Allen B. Bailey includes the remainder of his property given to the trust of Emman C. Allen and Allen B. Bailey. They are instructed to pay his adopted daughter, Vincent B. Butler of Newton, the sum of $500 as an annuity, which is to be increased to $5000 upon the death of her husband, Morris F. Butler.

The First Parish Church of Watertown and the Boston Country Club for Blind Babies are each given $5000 each.

The Old Colony and the Boston Vegetable Exchange.

The balance of the income is to be paid to Mrs. Bailey, and after her death to her adopted daughter, Movia F. Butler.

When the last beneficiary has died, the trust fund is to be distributed among the House for Aged Couples, the Home for Aged Men and the Home for Aged Women.

It is the wish of the late Mr. Bailey that the name of his wife shall be used in connection with the establishment of the institution.

The division of General Bailey's property in the trust of Elman C. Allen and Allen B. Bailey includes the remainder of his property given to the trust of Emman C. Allen and Allen B. Bailey. They are instructed to pay his adopted daughter, Vincent B. Butler of Newton, the sum of $500 as an annuity, which is to be increased to $5000 upon the death of her husband, Morris F. Butler.

The First Parish Church of Watertown and the Boston Country Club for Blind Babies are each given $5000 each.

The Old Colony and the Boston Vegetable Exchange.

The balance of the income is to be paid to Mrs. Bailey, and after her death to her adopted daughter, Movia F. Butler.

When the last beneficiary has died, the trust fund is to be distributed among the House for Aged Couples, the Home for Aged Men and the Home for Aged Women.

It is the wish of the late Mr. Bailey that the name of his wife shall be used in connection with the establishment of the institution.

The division of General Bailey's property in the trust of Elman C. Allen and Allen B. Bailey includes the remainder of his property given to the trust of Emman C. Allen and Allen B. Bailey. They are instructed to pay his adopted daughter, Vincent B. Butler of Newton, the sum of $500 as an annuity, which is to be increased to $5000 upon the death of her husband, Morris F. Butler.

The First Parish Church of Watertown and the Boston Country Club for Blind Babies are each given $5000 each.

The Old Colony and the Boston Vegetable Exchange.

The balance of the income is to be paid to Mrs. Bailey, and after her death to her adopted daughter, Movia F. Butler.

When the last beneficiary has died, the trust fund is to be distributed among the House for Aged Couples, the Home for Aged Men and the Home for Aged Women.

It is the wish of the late Mr. Bailey that the name of his wife shall be used in connection with the establishment of the institution.