Student Army Training Corps' new Mess Hall running smoothly at low expense

Enormous Amount of Food is Served Daily To Hungry S. A. T. C. Men By
Cafeteria System

COSTS LESS THAN $100 A DAY

The Miss Hall of the S. A. T. C. at the Institute is running smoothly at an expense of about $100 per week, as calculated from the beginning of the term. Every week the same amount of money is spent for purchases, but larger numbers of men are served at the Mess Hall, so that the cost per day of food, which is not very high, is less than $100.

The mess hall was established by the late John W. Brown, and is located in the basement of the Institute Building. It is open from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., and is divided into two sections, one for men and one for women. The men's section is larger and has more seating capacity than the women's section.

The men's section of the Mess Hall is divided into two parts, one for the first year students and the other for the upperclassmen. The first year students are seated at tables in the center of the room, while the upperclassmen have their own tables against the walls. There is a separate entrance for the women's section, which is located in the rear of the building.

The food is served at two meals a day, breakfast and dinner, and is served on a cafeteria basis. The men can choose from a variety of dishes, including meat, vegetables, and bread. The price per meal is set according to the number of men served, and is usually around $0.25 per meal.

The Miss Hall is managed by a committee of four members, one from each class year. The committee is responsible for the day-to-day operation of the Mess Hall and for ensuring that the food is served in a timely and efficient manner.

The Miss Hall is considered one of the best features of the Institute, and it is highly praised by the students. The food is always fresh and well prepared, and the service is prompt and efficient. The Mess Hall is a great place to meet with friends and to relax after a long day of classes.

INTERIOR OF MESS HALL

The Miss Hall of the S. A. T. C. at the Institute is running smoothly at an expense of about $100 per week, as calculated from the beginning of the term. Every week the same amount of money is spent for purchases, but larger numbers of men are served at the Mess Hall, so that the cost per day of food, which is not very high, is less than $100.

The mess hall was established by the late John W. Brown, and is located in the basement of the Institute Building. It is open from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., and is divided into two sections, one for men and one for women. The men's section is larger and has more seating capacity than the women's section.

The men's section of the Mess Hall is divided into two parts, one for the first year students and the other for the upperclassmen. The first year students are seated at tables in the center of the room, while the upperclassmen have their own tables against the walls. There is a separate entrance for the women's section, which is located in the rear of the building.

The food is served at two meals a day, breakfast and dinner, and is served on a cafeteria basis. The men can choose from a variety of dishes, including meat, vegetables, and bread. The price per meal is set according to the number of men served, and is usually around $0.25 per meal.

The Miss Hall is managed by a committee of four members, one from each class year. The committee is responsible for the day-to-day operation of the Mess Hall and for ensuring that the food is served in a timely and efficient manner.

The Miss Hall is considered one of the best features of the Institute, and it is highly praised by the students. The food is always fresh and well prepared, and the service is prompt and efficient. The Mess Hall is a great place to meet with friends and to relax after a long day of classes.

TUNNEL MOVES TO THE 40TH FLOOR

The tunnel, which has been bored in the Institute Buildings up to the 36th floor, has now reached the 40th floor. The tunnel is used to transport materials and supplies to the upper floors.

CLOEFAN STARTS

Society for Women Students To Organize

Cloefan, the society for the women students at the Institute, has been organized. This is a women's social club, and it is open to all female students. The society was established to provide a social outlet for female students, and it is located in the basement of the building.

The society meets once a week, and each meeting is open to all female students. The meetings are held in the evening, and they are usually held in the basement of the building.

The society is currently seeking new members, and it is open to all female students. The society meets once a week, and each meeting is open to all female students. The meetings are held in the evening, and they are usually held in the basement of the building.

The society is currently seeking new members, and it is open to all female students. The society meets once a week, and each meeting is open to all female students. The meetings are held in the evening, and they are usually held in the basement of the building.

The society is currently seeking new members, and it is open to all female students. The society meets once a week, and each meeting is open to all female students. The meetings are held in the evening, and they are usually held in the basement of the building.

The society is currently seeking new members, and it is open to all female students. The society meets once a week, and each meeting is open to all female students. The meetings are held in the evening, and they are usually held in the basement of the building.

The society is currently seeking new members, and it is open to all female students. The society meets once a week, and each meeting is open to all female students. The meetings are held in the evening, and they are usually held in the basement of the building.