STUDIES

Major Cole recently visited the various companies of the Student Labor Union, S. A. T. C., to tell them that the faculty were not satisfied with the quality of the academic work. He said that he had been told that the chief reason was not badly studied halls. Certain classes were unimpressed by him, for they are practically all as quiet as tombs.

The whole course is of little use in which to prepare the work. Two courses are not enough, and for the men in those courses, for all as for 131 hours of prepared work a term, or 28 weeks. These average an hour of a half-hour six nights a week. Such a schedule means as much as six or seven hours on some nights, and perhaps only an hour or less on others. The freshmen have to work on their own.

What would do more than anything to raise the standard of the work would be to have the upper classes study in separate rooms where they could begin after supper if necessary instead of waiting until three o'clock and work later than three-thirty on hard nights.

If no one would have to worry about the privilege of studying late being abused when one considers that revellers is shown five forty-five

DON'T SLIP

The S. A. T. C. now have a chance to show what kind of stuff they are made of. The history of the service will stand and wait to see what develops. However, you are in the service now and it is up to you to stick to the guns until your enlistment is up.

The chances are that the S. A. T. C. will continue some time after the war is over, and there will be many then who will be too only anxious to go to college as a soldier with no expenses expected. But if you have been so much done for and spent, it is up to us to do our best to make good.
