COLONEL'S EXPORTATION.

Pants are continually being received at the Agency of Technology and the "Colonel" for the entire season. The quality of the pants is excellent, with numerous colors available. The pants are made of 100% cotton and are suitable for all types of weather. Orders are being accepted for delivery in the next week.

The "Colonel" is the only man I know who wears pants; he is a most interesting person. He has a remarkable knowledge of the gun business and is a keen student of military strategy. On the occasion of his last visit, he provided the Agency with valuable insights into the current military situation.

A POTOX DISCOVERY.

The discovery of a new species of potasium, or "potox", has been announced by American scientists. This discovery is of great importance to the agricultural industry, as it promises to revolutionize potasium farming.

The potasium, or "potox", as it is called, is found in abundance in the Western States. The presence of this new species has been confirmed by several scientific experiments, and it is believed that it can be cultivated in many parts of the country.

The discovery was made by a group of scientists who have been working on the problem for several years. Their work was supported by the United States Department of Agriculture, and the results have been published in a recent issue of the Journal of Agricultural Science.

The new species is said to be highly resistant to disease and to have a high yield. It is expected to be widely adopted by farmers in the near future.
