A formal lunch was in form of a luncheon given by the board of trustees the hundredth anniversary of the University of Virginia, to the honor of Professor Hoover in recognition of his long and valuable service. He was a student at the Institute for five years prior to graduation from the engineering school. At that time he was the first bachelor of science to be awarded a degree in mechanical engineering.
He was the first to take the course in aeronautics and the first to complete the course in mechanics.
