FRESHER TRACK TEAM LOSES IN WORCESTER AGAINST MASSACHUSETTS

The freshman track team was white-washed by Worcester Academy last Saturday, according to the usual pattern of recent years. At least part of the reason for this was the fact that the field was unsatisfactory. Several of the sprint events were fought out in the Varsity meet, and Harvard, and we regret to say, failed to reach the finish line, much to the disappointment of the fans.

DORM DANCE OVEN

Season Closes With Last Saturday's Successful Informal

Last Saturday night the walls of Memorial Hall were alive with the sounds of music, for the last dormitory dance of the year was given. In many ways it was the best of the year as far as the students are concerned, for in short, it was a complete success. The doors were open, the music was heard, and the lights were bright. The band played, the orchestra played, and the students danced and sang. The evening was a perfect one, and the students were all grateful for the opportunity to have it.

HARVARD TRACK MEET

many of whose veterans had been under the wing of "Purcell" in former years. took first places in seven of the eleven events, in two events, heat two, and blanked the competition, as usual, in the two mile medley.

The track stands now are let to Harvard in a war against the last few events of the season, with the record of the future.

The Harvard track team is now on the way to fame, and the future looks bright for them. They have the best men and the best coaching, and with these they have a good chance to win their next meet, the last one of the season.
