VOODOO APPEARS AT RUSH

Twenty-five hundred copies of the Voice were printed this issue, making it read third largest among the college publications in the country. This record at the age of four months promises well for the future.

During the next three weeks the October number will be in the management plans to have this number ready early in the fall term. All contributions for the fall issue should be in by the 20th of June unless otherwise stated.

PLAN NAVAL R. O. T. C.

Every university and college in the country will give college courses in cooperation with the Navy Department in building a naval reserve, and the same under a plan now being developed by a Joint Committee of the Navy and the War De-

Part. It is planned to commission college men as officers in a great national reserve force. A four-year course in naval cadet clerk, complemented by four years of service as naval ensigns in the reserve and would be given a field course of general instruction in marine subjects, including theoretical and physical exercises. They would be furnished with clothing, meals and lodging and nominal pay during that period. Advanced college courses would include navigation, higher mathematics, economics, international law and strategic planning. At the end of the second and fourth years the cadets who had taken naval training would be assigned to ships as warrant officers.
