The Tech is a weekly newspaper of Brandeis University, Waltham, Massachusetts, founded in 1954. It is under the jurisdiction of the Student Publications Board and is produced by student reporters. The Tech is published every Thursday. It is distributed to dormitories on Friday and is also available online.

In the Tech, a list of subscribers is published. These subscribers pay a small annual fee and receive The Tech. The list is printed to show gratitude to those who support the newspaper. The list is also used to promote other events happening on campus. The list is made available for anyone to see, and it is not used for any other purpose.
