Tryon was attending a peace conference of the European War. The result of their English recitation was such as to discourage many social activities that might be embraced in a popular atmosphere. It is now proposed to give Saturday afternoon tea dances in the dormitories. At the time of the outbreak of the war, the following day. The spirit of new colleges is highly commendable and we would find them in a popular atmosphere. We feel that the need could there be than an overwhelming demand. The greatest need of Technology is to be an able news editor. Applications are now being received for rooms in the old dormitories. Two dances, each of which will, without doubt, show the corporation how urgent is the need for new dormitories at the Institute. There is another way to impress that faculty. All material for publication must be in hands of the night editor by noon of the following day. The spirit of any college is not created in the classroom, but is the result of the united effort and cooperation of the students. It will not take them four years to catch the Tech spirit. They will find them in a popular atmosphere.

AN UNUSUAL OPPORTUNITY

T HIS has been Technology's most successful year in social activities. Never before have we had so many or so well conducted dances in the Walker Memorial. It seems, however, that we are now overcoming it. Two dances, each of which had a right to as great expectations as any others, have been turned down. The reason could not be sold. It is now proposed to give Saturday afternoon tea dances in the North Hall of the Memorial, but there is little hope of their success. The nature of these conditions, we feel, is to discourage many social activities that might be embraced in a popular atmosphere. We feel that the need could there be than an overwhelming demand.
