PENN OUTCLASSES INSTITUTE BOXERS

Red and Blue Captures Five Contests Out of Six—Bradley Wins for Technology in Heavy-weight Class

REFEREE STOPS 3 BOUTS

The boxing team of the University of Pennsylvania defeated the Institute team last Saturday night at Philadelphia by a score of 5 bouts to 1. It was the first victory of the year for the red and blue team which is coached by George Decker, once a lightweight champion. Three of the Penn victories resulted in technical knockouts, the referee stopping the fighting to save the Institute men from further punishment.

The most sensational bout was between James Hayes '21 and Heine Bourne, the Penn captain. In the first round, a right cross to the jaw took considerable speed out of the red and blue entry and but for superior ring generalship he might have been counted out.

Another very fast bout was between F. C. Paul '22 and Tommy O'Malley, the former 135 pound amateur champion. For two rounds the contestants stood face to face and slammed away for dear life. Paul opened up a cut under O'Malley's right eye in the second round. Starting in the third, O'Malley cut loose with a fusillade of rights and lefts that soon had Paul hanging on. At the end of the third round the two judges disagreed, but referee Jack O'Brien awarded the decision to the red and blue entry on his fighting in the last round.

Bradley broke even with Nate Bessel of Penn in the first two rounds but in the third round Bradley nearly knocked him for the count. Captain Addicks '21 was easily outpointed by Al Mackenzie, Penn's new 125 pound find. The referee stopped the bout in the second round as Mackenzie was master of the situation at all times. Another match was stopped by the referee when T. H. Barnard '22 was getting a bad beating from Gordon Beckett. In the final bout of the evening Egil Christensen '22 was overcome by the Shenandoah wonder in a wild and fast fray. Three rounds could not determine the winner and a fourth round was started. In this round Christensen was so tired that he could not put up a very good exhibition with the result that the referee stopped the match, giving the decision to the red and blue representative.

TECHNOLOGY CATHOLIC CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL BALL FRIDAY First Big Social Event Since 1917 Given at Somerset

The annual ball of the Technology Catholic Club will be held this Friday evening, April 30, at the Hotel Somerset. It will be the first time since 1917 that the club has run a social event on a large scale, on account of the interference of the war. With the backing of the alumni, the club is working hard for the success of the dance.

Many prominent men of Boston and vicinity are interested in the affair, including General Edwards, Mayor Peters of Boston, Mayor Quinn of Cambridge, Hon. Joseph Pelletier, Hon. E. A. Counihan, John F. Fitzgerald and James J. Phelan. The committee in charge has completed all arrangements and announces that a few tickets are yet available from members of the committee. Music at the ball will be furnished by Bert Lowe's orchestra of 12 pieces, including the xylophone soloist who starred at the Junior Tea. Many prominent women of Greater Boston are the patronesses. The matrons of the evening are Mesdames Clarence Edwards, Andrew J. Peters, Jr., James Juane, James A. Kiley, M. J. O'Connor, John A. Mitsch and John J. Murphy.

MAY T. E. N. APPEARS SOON

The May issue of the Tech Engineering News will be on sale soon. The board does not wish to announce the contents now, but it will be given out in a later issue of THE TECH.
