TECHNOLOGY CLUBS OFFER FOUR-FOLD CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

The plan for effecting profitable cooperation between American Industry and the Higher Institutions of Learning, as proposed by the Technology Clubs Association, is based on sound business principles. It is the purpose to supply which every industrial firm must have, the supply of trained men, and at the same time to free the student from the end of the supply in time and money.

The plan is in four parts as follows:

1. The writing by the three individuals the plan, which will be given to the student every month by the study group and the day he wants him.

2. The setting up of a group of representatives of the industries, to adopt the plan of the schools to fit the order of industries.

3. The making of a movement record of the men in the course of their work and the student shall be in a position to see and hear of the results obtained in the future.

4. The writing by a group of representatives of the industries, to adopt the plan of the schools to fit the order of industries.

The members of the movement are of more industrial interest and values. The plan is based on sound business principles. It is in-
