The Third of December that some year found the Institute Committee on Athletics in a quandary as to whom to substitute the present athletic meet for the cane rush.

EXTEND T. C. A. DRIVE

Further Opportunity To Be Taken

The Technology Christian Association has extended its drive for funds to raise $2000 for the game this year. A special effort will be made in this action, as they believe that a large amount of money has been placed in the main library chest and that the support of a student organization, to stimulate interest. At the close of the extension of this work is met by friends and Alumni through the general solicitation of the work done by this establishment. The results were not too good.

The 1923 tug-o'-war team was victorious on October 31, 1923, in the Battle of 1924. The 1922 tug-o'-war team was only able to take defeat, but not too much to fight for Victory.

CONCERNING THE HARVARD CO-OPERATIVE STORE

We hope that everybody has read the communication from the members of the board of directors of the Harvard Co-operative Society representing the Institute entered in our last issue in regard to the criticism of the management of the student body. While this statement should do much to clear up the misunderstanding in regard to the affairs of the Society, it still leaves vague the financial relation between the Technology branch and the main store as the annual financial report dealt with the two stores as a unit while this last statement spoke of the financial status as a separate entity.

A step forward in recognizing the fact that the prices at the Co-operative store are no higher than the prices of downtown stores is a step forward in the consciousness of prices at the cooperative store and elsewhere but bring out the point that they are aggressive and consistent with a profit sufficient to pay the dividend determined without charge.

Our only object in airing this whole subject is to bring about the best understanding between the students of the Institute and the management of the Society. It would have been possible for us to have notified the students directly, but a statement from such a body would have done little to eliminate the dissatisfaction current among both Faculty and students at the Institute. We know that the Co-operative store has definite statistics which if published would clear up some of the existing misunderstandings. We feel that a free and open discussion is the only way out of the difficulty.

FATAL CANE RUSH

Athletic Meet Substituted As Result of Death of Former Technology Student in Canep Rush of 1923

STEP LIVELY, FRESHMEN

Unlike our usual happenings, the men of the class of 1924 as it is well known fact that they are not the customary group of activities. The reason for this poor showing? Have they decided to join the famous brown bag brigade whose ranks are already too numerous? If the class of 1924 wishes to be regarded as a group of potential leaders, they must show that they are capable of making a contribution to our Tech lore.

We hope that a few words will be sufficient, and that the freshmen will show more interest in the future. It is by no means too early to begin to plan for the future and to expect them to take advantage of their opportunities and make Technology as successful in the future as it has been in the past.

We wish to thank Mr. Franklin Collier, staff cartoonist of the Boston Herald and Mr. A. J. Rooney, sports writer for the Boston Traveler for their aid and co-operation in making our Field Day issue successful.
