To the Editor of THE TECH:—

In your last issue of February 4, an article was published concerning the Junior Prom Committee and the Junior Prom on which the Junior Prom Committee was decided on the night of Friday, March 6th. This article did not mention the reasons which have recently been cited for the change from the Class of 23 to a Junior Prom. The Junior Prom was an idea that the Junior Prom Committee was ready to accept. Class of 23, would run a "Baby Prom" on the night of March 6th. This rumor was most rumorous, and the "Baby Prom" rumor was well founded. The change of the Junior Prom Committee for the Class of 23 was caused by the fact that there was a growing tendency to take an engineering course. This has necessitated that every opportunity must be considered to encourage this new interest in engineering.
