HOG ISLAND

Friday, February 4, marked the official closing of Hog Island, the largest shipyard in the world. This event is of interest to those who have followed the progress of the American International Shipbuilding Corporation, a company founded by Mr. R. H. H. Jones, President of the American International Shipbuilding Corporation, graduated from this institution and many other Technology men.

Secretaries afford a significant case in point. Indeed it requires an immense amount of work before a good cause can be achieved.

Are You Getting Something for Nothing?

A FEW days ago a foreign student of the Institute came to the office to announce that he had just received a letter from Europe informing him that he had been awarded a scholarship to attend the Paris Institute of Technology. This was the cause of a great deal of discussion in the office. The student expressed his surprise at the news, but was assured that it was the result of his hard work and dedication. He was very happy to receive the news, and thanked everyone for their support.

The student is a member of the French national team, and has been working very hard to achieve his goal. He has been studying very hard, and has been working on a project that he is very proud of. He is very excited to receive this news, and is very happy to have been awarded the scholarship.
