an anthem properly expressing some measure of their regard for their Alma Mater.

Now that next year's Tech Shows begin, I think the true spirit of creation, we hope that this idea of writing a last song will be conceived in the minds of the playwrights with an beginnings. Certainly they can hope to win no honors greater than that of composing what may become Tech's great song. And so, too, the "oblivion into which Tech Shows of the past have fallen," and supply the want of an anthem, they may leave behind them a live and honorable memory of themselves as authors of a splendid song. Here is an idea which presents a challenge to all those who have the power of producing this service; we hope the call will remain unanswered.

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor of THE TECH:

In a recent issue of THE TECH there appeared a communication from Stuart Nixon regarding the new society connected with the Musical Club. For the benefit of our readers, here is this communication in full:

I hope that this communication will explain to the student body and others interested in the new society what its purposes are and that it will be successful in accomplishing said purpose.
