

TROUNCE LORD JEFF IN FAST TENNIS SCRAMBLE

WIN FIVE MATCHES

Amherst Plays Well at Times But is Outclassed

Technology defeated Amherst 5-1 yesterday afternoon on the Longwood courts at Chestnut Hill. Although several of the matches were fought tooth and nail, the early victories left little doubt as to the final outcome of the meet.

Herm Broockmann downed Snider 6-4, 6-2, but as the match was easy his playing was not as snappy as usual. Bill Cauldwell lost only a single game in each of his sets, and played his terrifically fast game throughout, although Plimpton was out of the running from the start. Carver started out pretty weakly against Titus, but warmed up steadily until at the end he was taking most of the balls from the center of the court, and running his opponent to opposite sides of the court in a way which soon had him playing out.

Pull Through in Doubles

Scott met Brickett for the only defeat of the afternoon. He was not up to standard in this match, but he played a much better game in the doubles, with Cauldwell. In this match, Amherst was represented by Arnold and Plimpton, who, while weak on the service to the extent of serving doubles repeatedly, played a slow game that was irritating. In fact, Bill and Scottie lost the second set and only took the last at 9-7 after some pretty strenuous playing. Herm Broockmann and Carver took their match against Snider and Titus in the third set. Carver was playing at his best.

RAQUET WIELDERS WITHER UNDER DARTMOUTH ATTACK

Dartmouth's strong tennis team took every match Saturday afternoon at Hanover, defeating Technology 6-1. The meet was closer than the score would seem to indicate, for several of the matches were very closely fought. Captain Sanders of the Hanoverians downed Broockmann only in the third set, after some lightning volleying. Sanders played a remarkable game. Carleton took the third set of his match from Capt. Cauldwell, and here again was a real battle.

Dartmouth's strength was backed by two hundred or more student rooters, and the team had had expert coaching from Coach Harris right up to the day of the meet.

The summary:
 Singles—Sanders (D.) beat Broockmann (M. I. T.), 6-2, 3-6, 6-4.
 Howe (D.) beat Carver (M. I. T.), 6-4, 6-0.
 Carleton (D.) beat Cauldwell (M. I. T.), 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.
 Kendall (D.) beat Scott (M. I. T.), 6-2, 6-3.
 Doubles—Sanders and Howe (D.) beat Broockmann and Carver (M. I. T.), 6-2, 6-3.
 Carleton and Kendall (D.) beat Cauldwell and Scott (M. I. T.), 6-3, 6-2.

CREW BRINGS HOME THREE FOLD VICTORY

only a little over a length. However, they gained so much in the remaining stretch that they were three lengths in the van when the flag was lowered indicating the end of the race.

One hour later, after losing the toss for position the Junior Varsity paddled off from the start. In this set-to the Worcester shell led for the first quarter mile. From this point on, it was Technology's race, the Engineers finishing four lengths to the good. Here again the club oarsman used the higher stroke.

Varsity Works to Win

The Varsity race, which was the last on the program, proved to be the real contest of the afternoon. Norton shot into the lead at the sound of the gun; however, the Engineers practically evened out the distance after 30 strokes. Due to the speed at which the Worcester men were travelling, under the propelling action of 36 strokes to the minute, the Technicians were unable to settle down and really hit their stride except for a brief interval after three-fourths of the course had been traversed.

The Varsity boat led by a length at the bridge, but despite their sprint on the stretch to the finish they lost some of their advantage, and finally finished a bare three-quarters of a length ahead of the clubmen.

When asked what he thought of the regatta, R. F. Andrews, captain of one of Cornell's eights, picked the freshmen as giving the best exhibition of the afternoon and as rowing the best race.

Freshman Time Tops Varsity

There was some uncertainty as to the validity of the times, however, the official times as given out show that the freshman had the best clocking of all. The fact that they were aided by a risk breeze which later veered about and opposed the second varsity must not be lost sight of.

On Saturday, the Varsity will meet the Union Boat Club crew on the Charles, while the junior eight is competing against Yale on the Housatonic. On the same day, the first freshman eight will journey to Exeter, and the freshman four will paddle Brookline-Huntington on the Charles. Weather permitting, the freshman contest with the Noble and Greenough four which was scheduled for last Friday, will be run off on Tuesday.

Freshman Race—Won by Technology: Davis, bow; Rosseau, 2; Ames, 3; Greatwood, 4; Eaton, 5; Thomas, 6; Prouty, 7; Dunlaevy, stroke; Reid, coxswain; Norton No. 3; Lindberg, bow; Skinner 2; Ulfose, 3; Pearson, 4; Nilson, 5; Andersoz, 6; Peterson, 7; Johnson, stroke; Lawson, coxswain. Time, 6m 32½s.

Second Crews—Won by Technology: Evans, bow; Sherbrook, 2; Blood, 3; Bryden, 4; Scholtz, 5; Sayre, 6; Woodruff, 7; Brill, stroke; Davidson, coxswain; Norton No. 2; Grayson, bow; Neilson, 2; Sandquist, 3; Davis, 4; Brown, 5; Dickey, 6; E. Kronoff, 7; Shand, stroke; Hunter, coxswain. Time, 7m 25s.

Varsity—Won by Technology: Richards, bow; Morse, 2; Driscoll, 3; Jakobson, 4; Norwell, 5; Valentine, 6; McCurdy, 7; Molinar, stroke; Folinsbee, coxswain; Norton No. 1; Person, bow; Beninger, 2; Henson, 3; Ingman, 4; Hathaway, 5; Dahlquist, 6; J. Kronoff, 7; Holberg, stroke; Dalton, coxswain. Time, 6m 28s.

Harvard finishes strong—five lengths behind Navy. This was but one of the results of the triangular regatta held on Saturday in which Princeton upset all dope by nosing out the Olympic champions by half a length.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL TEAM WALLOPED BY DARTMOUTH

Saturday, as the fruits of the long journey to Hanover, N. H., the 1924 baseball team suffered the pangs of defeat to the tune of 16-0, at the hands of the Dartmouth freshmen. Victory was not suspected, but such a swamping was not anticipated.

Although all three pitchers, Lane, Kennett, and Canfield, stepped to the mound, the slaughter continued. Half the runs, were scored in the first inning, when it became evident that the Engineers had bitten off more than they could swallow.

Except for the pitchers, and the substituting of Robinson for Sharkey at second, the team played throughout the game without a change. Michelen, the recently discovered catcher, caught all nine innings.

CHAMPION HURDLER COMES WITH GREEN

Captain Earl Thompson, world's champion 120-yard hurdler, brings his Dartmouth track team to Tech Field Saturday afternoon for the annual Technology-Dartmouth dual meet, the first meet at home this season for the Institute team.

Thomson himself will be the big point-scorer for his team. Holder of the world's record for the high barriers, he will run in this event, the low hurdles, take a few leaps in the high jump, and may even try the broad jump.

Besides Thomson, another Green star is expected to twinkle on Saturday. John Shelburne, the dusky sprinter. Like his captain, he is a versatile athlete and does an excellent job with the shot put. Then there is Abe Weld, hammer thrower, whom George Dandrow beat in the 56-pound weight at the Penn games a couple of weeks back, and other luminaries.

Dartmouth and Penn had a battle royal for first honors last Saturday in a triangular meet where Columbia was the third team in the meet and the Green aggregation collected all the points that made up their score from the field and hurdle events.

This weakness is likely to be disastrous to them in meeting Technology this week, for right here at the Institute are some very capable field men, though we make no boast to hurdlers of the Thomson type.

FRATERNITY GAMES DELAYED BY WEATHER

D. U. Ahead in Beacon Street League—D. K. E. Leads Cambridge Gang—Betas Victor in Bay State—Kappa Sigs Lose

FINALS MAY BE POSTPONED

The Interfraternity baseball games have been seriously delayed by the bad weather this spring, and five of the games have been postponed on this account. It was hoped that the finals would take place next week, but this now seems improbable. The winners of the Cambridge and Beacon street leagues will play, and likewise those of the Bay State and Commonwealth leagues. The winners of these matches play a game to determine the champion.

In the Cambridge league, Phi Beta Epsilon has not yet played. The D. K. E. fraternity leads, having beaten Delta Tau Delta 4-3, and Theta Delta Chi 4-1. The Theta Delta Chis beat the "Deltas" 7-4.

The D. U. men lead the Beacon Street gang, having won from Phi Sigma Kappa 12-11, and from Sigma Chi 12-11. The Phi Sigs brought their average up when they beat the S. A. E. 9-5. S. A. E. and Sigma Chi played a tie game.

The Bay State union is led by Beta Theta Pi, due to a thrilling 10-9 win over A. T. O., and a victory over Phi Kappa Sigma. The Phi Kaps won over the Theta Chis.

The Commonwealth League originally included Theta Xi, but since they didn't organize a squad, the championship was decided when Lambda Chi Alpha beat Kappa Sigma 1-0.

This week, which was to have been the last before the interleague fight, S. A. E. is scheduled to meet D. U., the Betas go up against Sigma Chi, and Phi Beta Epsilon meets the Deltas.

The five postponed games are: A. T. O. vs. Theta Chi; Theta Delta Chi vs. Phi Beta Epsilon; D. K. E. vs. Phi Beta Epsilon; Sigma Chi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; Phi Kappa Sigma vs. A. T. O.

If the leagues do not wind up their individual competitions in time, the championship match will be postponed so as not to interfere with exams.

The Beavers made eight errors whereas the Green and White played a flawless game. Dartmouth got eight hits, while the Cardinal and Gray got five. Eddie Snevin, the Dartmouth boxing coach, umpired the game.

BUSINESS MEN CAPTURE B. U. TRACK FLAG ON TECH FIELD

R. O. T. C. Stages Sham Battle—Trim Bates in Baseball 6-0

Tech field was the scene of considerable activity last Friday when Boston University held its annual field day track meet there. The afternoon's performance started with an exhibition drill by the R. O. T. C. followed by a one-sided sham battle with rifles and trench mortars.

The track meet was won by the College of Business Administration. The College of Liberal Arts pulled second while the parsons from the School of Theology trailed. Cutbill easily took the half-mile but only took third place in a very slow mile. The events that attracted the most attention were the 50-yd. dash and the shuttle relay for girls. Other events were a boxing exhibition and a freshman-Sophomore rope pull which the freshmen won.

After the track meet B. U. took a fairly well contested baseball game from Bates College by a score of 6-0.

When the targets of the match with Drexel Institute, which was declared a tie, were sent to Washington for verification, the N. R. A. dropped a point for Drexel. The score now stands 496-495, in favor of Technology.
