

ALUMNI AND STUDENTS WELCOME DR. NICHOLS WHO IS TO GUIDE THE DESTINIES OF TECHNOLOGY

BACCALAUREATE OPENS 1921 SENIOR WEEK

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

BACK ROW: K. R. Sutherland, Garvin Bawden, Institute committee; C. G. Dan-drow, Jr., executive committee; H. P. Junod, secretary; E. W. Booth, executive committee. FRONT ROW: F. B. Kitttridge, treasurer, R. H. Smithwick, president, A. D. Harvey, vice-president.

SELF-CONTROL THEME OF SUNDAY SERMON

Value of Sober-Mindedness in Individual, Community, and Nation Emphasized by Rev. Dr. Mann

300 SENIORS IN ATTENDANCE

The value of sober mindedness in the individual, the community and the nation was the theme of the baccalaureate sermon by Reverend Doctor Alexander Mann to the Senior Class at Trinity Church, Sunday. "What America needs today is not more idealism, more enthusiasm or more emotion, but more of the old, manly virtue of self-control in word and deed and thought."

The class, three hundred strong, formed on the steps of the Rogers building and from there marched to Trinity Church. L. W. Conant, lead the march, accompanied by his aides, R. H. Smithwick, H. P. Junod, and R. A. St. Laurent, former general manager of THE TECH.

Sober Mind is the Sound Mind After conveying the cordial greetings and best wishes of Bishop Lawrence, unable to be present, Dr. Mann cited as his text the recommendation of Paul to Titus, "Young men likewise exhort to be sober-minded." "What," asked the preacher, "was that virtue of sober-mindedness of which Paul thought so highly? It is not the coin-

(Continued on Page 5)

SENIOR WEEK PROGRAM

Wednesday, June 8

Tea dance, Copley Plaza Hotel, at 8:30.
Tech Night at the Pops, Symphony Hall. Concert starts at 8:15.

Thursday, June 9

Class assemblies in the Great Court at 1:30 for Class picture. Class Day in Walker Memorial.
Senior Prom in Walker at 8:30. White flannels.

Friday, June 10

Commencement, Walker Memorial, at 2:30.

Dean Burton Gives Farewell Address at Senior Banquet

President-elect Nichols Makes His First Speech to Student Body at Same Occasion

LIVELY PROGRAM FOR POPS TONIGHT

THE TECH Gives Full Account of Chabrier's famous "Espana"—Composed in Dance Halls of Seville

GAGE GIVES GAMBOL

Special features will add further to the zest and hilarity of the lively programme which Agide Jacchia, far-famed conductor of the Pops orchestra, has made for Tech Night at the Pops in Symphony Hall, this evening.

It would be hard to say whether Frank Gage '22 is more talented as a composer, as a pianist, or as a singer. He will be heard in all three capacities in his sketch "Happiness Blues." One number on the programme is given over to the Tech songs—in which the entire audience is expected to join.

In order that the under-graduate may explain learnedly to his girl the music as it comes along, THE TECH provides the following guide to the more important numbers. Chabrier's Rhapsody "Espana" is the best to expatiate upon. The French composer visited many cafes in Spain in search of local color, from which he made a score so brilliant and daring in its novel effects (such as the passage where the violinists strike their instruments with the backs of their bows) that the players were actually frightened at the first performance. But the popularity of the piece was instantaneous.

"Espana" is based on two Spanish

(Continued on Page 5)

Dr. Ernest Fox Nichols, president-elect of the Institute made his first speech to a body of the students last night at the Senior banquet. Dean Alfred E. Burton made his farewell address to the class, at the same gathering, probably his last speech at the Institute before leaving the Institute. Arthur D. Little, president of the Alumni Association and Professor Robert E. Rogers, of the

(Continued on Page 2)

Finishers Finish Finish With a Finished Finish

"There has been a somewhat unprecedented outlay of cement around the grounds lately, probably with an idea of putting some finishing touches on the appearance of the Institute"—News Item.

Cement! Gobs of it! And finishing touches! As if there had not been already enough "finishing" by exams and enough "touching" by the recent announcement of laboratory fees for next year.

It sure is a touching tribute, too, to the dear ol' 'Stute to learn that there is not enough cement in the dome of some boneheads on the campus to give a finished look to the appearance of our Alma Mater. If the cement wielder could have seen the expression of the poor, forlorn "finishers" of one of the recent exams, he would have hustled right over to the Walker and made a few cement moulds about six feet long, and all lined in plush so that the finish of the finishers might be finished in a finished style. All of which means that the use of cement around here is an expense that should be cemented up.

SENIORS GO SEAWARD AFTER SOLEMN SUNDAY

Four Hundred Students Let Down on Cares and Worries and Enjoy Swimming Pool at Old Nantasket

BALL GAMES HOTLY CONTESTED
BY J. S. WARD '22

Four hundred of the Institute Seniors took an antidote for the solemnity of the Baccalaureate sermon of Sunday, when they attended the annual Senior picnic, which was held Monday. The hopeful graduates took the 9 o'clock boat from Rowe's Wharf, efforts to secure a special steamer having been unsuccessful.

No particular uniform was prescribed for the men of 1921, but almost every man showed up with some kind of white, near-white, or formerly white, trousers. They were of white duck and white flannel, gingham, calico and denim, with here and there a few pair of full-fledged white overalls.

It is perhaps fortunate that the Reverend Alexander Mann, who spoke at length Sunday to the Seniors on the text of St. Paul's epistle to Titus, "Young men also exhort to be sober-minded," did not attend the picnic. Of sober-mindedness there was none, although there were many and plaintive walls over the unprecedented and unavoidable presence

(Continued on Page 3)

GOLF TEAM OUT FOR COLLEGIATE HONORS

Johnson, Schley, Freeman and Duane Will Represent the Institute at Greenwich, June 27, For First Time

EARLY ADMISSION A CREDIT

Prospects are extremely bright for the Technology four which will compete in the intercollegiate golf match at the Greenwich Country Club, Greenwich, Conn., June 27. Much credit is due the team for being admitted to this tourney so soon.

The Institute will be represented by Captain A. L. Johnson, H. M. Schley, W. M. B. Freeman, and James Duane. The selection of these men for the matches was a very difficult matter, for the whole team has been playing in much the same form throughout the season, all of them about on a par. The engineers will be playing against some of the best amateur talent in the country and it is expected that they will show up well against their opponents, judging from their work in the matches this spring.

It is noteworthy that the Institute

(Continued on Page 3)

CALENDAR

Wednesday, June 8

10:30—Inauguration ceremonies, Walker Memorial.
6:30—Alumni Dinner in main hall of Walker.