BEAVER HARRIERS ENTERED IN ANNUAL I. C. A. A. A. RUN

Prospects Dimmed by Outcome of New England Meet

The prospect of Technology placing near the top in the Intercollegiate next Monday is somewhat dimmed by the outcome of the New England run. The Beavers will, however, be strong contenders, although their place is somewhat hard to forecast.

The run will take place over the new Van Courlandt Park course of six miles. The starting line will be crowded, as there will be 126 starters from 18 colleges. The strong Cornell combination is practically assured of first, although they will not be able to finish in the one, two, three order which they have done in every meet but one so far.

Technology’s varsity lineup will be unchanged. The freshman entries are: F. W. Bemis, R. W. Parkinson, E. B. Sandberg, G. L. Bateman, E. W. Gardiner and J. K. Peck. The freshman course consists of the first lap of the varsity course, and is three miles long. Eleven colleges have entered freshman teams, which is more than were entered last year.

The outcome of the freshman run is very hard to forecast, as next to nothing is known concerning the teams or individuals entered. The Beaver yearlings have, however, won without much effort all the meets they have entered this season. Both the freshman and varsity squads will leave Boston Saturday evening accompanied by Coach Kanaly and Trainer Johnson.

WRESTLING PROSPECTS APPEAR PROMISING NOW

Wrestling possibilities this year prophesy an excellent reason for the Beaver mat-men. Quite a large number of candidates have turned out to Manager Pike’s and Captain George Buttler’s call for more men for the frosh and varsity teams. The fifty contestants out have among them some rather promising material. Tommy Barnard, who appeared in the 115 pound class for the Institute mit-men, will wrestle for the 115 pound berth. Harry Bruner, who has made his mark in track, is out for the same place. He has able competition in McDonald, who covered the berth for the cub wrestlers last year.

Hazeltine and Warburton, who wrestled in the 125 pound class, are out again this year, and also Tuttle of last year’s frosh team, who did some clever wrestling in the last season.

Captain Buttler so far has the 145 pound field all to himself, since none have so far turned up with any desire to contest the position. Ames, who wrestled in the same weight for the freshmen last year, has now shifted to the 158 pound class. As possible contestants for the berth there may be listed Briggs of last season’s varsity, Tommy Thomas, of the squad, and who has been practicing all summer, and Echer, who shows up well as promising material.

Heath and Valentine, two newcomers, are out for the 175 pound crown, formerly contested for by Bill Russell, now “hors du combat,” and Watts Humphrey, at present among the missing.

In fact, all classes above the 158 pound position, are in strong need of new material, having been depleted by recent graduations. The heavy-weight material includes Maccue, formerly of the West Virginia varsity, and Bailey.

The frosh contestants include two former mat-men of the B. Y. M. C. U., Cohen, who was prominent in the 135 pound class, and Goriana, of the 145 pound class. The type of material out gives strong indications of a cub team out to rival last year’s record.

Cyclone Burns, who coached the team so well last season, is back again and will be present in the wrestling room after 4 o’clock, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. The team is fortunate in securing the services of R. J. Waite as assistant coach; he held this same position last year.

Waite, who is a graduate of the U. of P., won the Intercollegiate championship in 1908, in the 145 pound, and has developed some strong contestants for the Beaver team. At present, the suggestion of a second team is being taken under consideration, its purpose being to always have trained men in reserve for the varsity. This team will participate in local meets.

EMINENT DUTCH CHEMIST LECTURES AT INSTITUTE

Professor Ernst Cohen, of the University of Utrecht, Holland, is giving two lectures at the Institute this week. The first was given yesterday in room 5-330; the second will be given Friday at 4 o’clock in room 10-250. The subject of the lecture is the “Metastability of Matter.” Is accompanied by experiments and lantern slides. Professor Cohen has been lecturing at a number of the American universities and his lectures have everywhere met with marked success.

T. A. C. CONTINUES DRIVE THIS WEEK

Lack of Support of Students Causes Officers to Extend Time

WILL RUN DANCES AFTER MEETS

The recent announcement of the continuation of the T. A. C. drive during this week was made for the reason that so small a number of men have signed up for the club that it is not able to carry out its plans for aiding athletics during the coming year on account of the lack of support shown by the student body in joining the club.

Basketball, swimming, and hockey are soon to start, and these Institute teams are making arrangements for a good season this year. As in the past these teams should make a good showing against other colleges. Admission to the meets of both the basketball and swimming teams will be at one-half price to T. A. C. members, and there will be a considerable saving netted by those men joining the club. Although the club cannot offer the same reduction on tickets for the hockey games at the arena, the club does offer its members a choice of the select seats at these meets.

Want Large Cheering Section

Another reason put forth for joining the club, by its officers, is that the purpose of the club is to help the teams by having its members form a substantial cheering section, and show their support of the teams. They, the officers, believe that there are more men interested in athletics than have shown this interest by joining the club. These men are to be given this opportunity of joining the club.

Financially, the club has not enough funds to promulgate the budget which has been made out by the team managers to cover their allotments over that secured from the student tax. The success of the coming season de-

COACH SUTHERLAND GIVES SWIMMERS HARD PRACTICE

Coach Alec Sutherland’s squad was kept busy last Monday in the fourth swimming practice of the season. About 45 men reported and were put through at least six lengths of the tank, the coach watching them closely on their form. The men were also given practice in starts and turns, and much progress was noted in both of these important dash features, over the work of the previous week.

It looks as if the freshmen are likely to turn out a team equal, if not superior, to last year’s very commendable frosh team. The coach does not want to give out any names of the promising men as yet, but it is likely that some cuts will be made in the freshman squad inside of the next ten days. One event that does not seem to be up to standard in the 1925 squad is the plunge. All freshmen of the desired build are asked to turn out and see if there is any possibility of their developing into plungers.

Today’s practice will be held in the Boston “Y” and not in the Cambridge “Y” as last Wednesday. The practice is to start at 4 o’clock promptly, and though the team will not have the tank to themselves, the coach will be there to give personal instruction.

Best For Collapsible Tops

It is much cheaper to use Pontop once than to retop your car two or three times with some other material. You pay a little more for Pontop, but you only pay once.

Pontop excels in looks, strength and endurance. It makes shapely tops that stand up without sagging or growing shabby. It resists every test of wear and weather and gives top value. It will pay you to insist on Pontop.
