The human element is industry is being talked about by all. All men have received some sort of training in school, yet there is a very evident difference in the efficiency of the men leaving. There are men who have studied the art of business and are in no way inferior to the students of the arts, and there is no reason why attention should not be given to the importance of the human element.

The human element can be improved by giving the right sort of attention to the individual. It can be helped with the right amount of interest and attention. It can be encouraged with the right amount of praise and encouragement. It can be improved by giving the right sort of education and training. It can be improved by giving the right sort of opportunities and incentives. It can be improved by giving the right sort of attention to the individual. It can be improved by giving the right sort of education and training. It can be improved by giving the right sort of opportunities and incentives.

When the human element is improved, the man will be better equipped to handle the job. When the human element is improved, the man will be better equipped to handle the job. When the human element is improved, the man will be better equipped to handle the job. When the human element is improved, the man will be better equipped to handle the job. When the human element is improved, the man will be better equipped to handle the job.