BEAVER GYM CAPTAIN HEADS CONFERENCE

Open Basketball Season Saturday

TeamPicked for Opening Date with Northeast—Three Veterans in Lineup

Yearlings Show Promise

The Beaver basketball team starts its season on Saturday with a home game against the University of Notre Dame. The coach has announced the lineup to start against Northwestern, Columbia, center, Tomx and Landis, guards, Captain Haskell and Blood, forwards. Of these all but Columbia and Landis are last year's regulars. Burke is the only man not available this year but Blevins, last year's center, has not been attending practice regularly and will not start the game.

With all except one of last year's men on hand and a number of promising young men reporting regularly the prospects for the season are very good. Coach Allen has twenty men left on his varsity squad, after making the first and second cuts, and these are working in the Walker gym three times a week. Whenever the crowded facilities permit an extra visit.

Team has scheduled a number of hard games for the coming season and is looking forward to another good year. Several of the games have not been definitely planned yet, however, and the complete line will not be fixed until the men's ladder is completed. As these are arranged, it is intended to give the men the necessary amount of practice. This will make it possible for any other men who desire to try out for the team to report at either the captain or manager of the team at the Alumni house at the time for practice as posted on the hockey bulletin board.

The Beaver skaters will probably face some of the same teams that they have met in previous years. Many of the men on the squad will remain in Boston during the period when the hockey season is not in progress. Some of them have been granted permission to return to their homes for the holidays and others for the two more weeks necessary for the building of the rink. All of the men have accepted the game and will be ready to play at any time.

The coaches have announced the following teams for the season: The varsity and second teams, the reserve and junior teams, and the varsity junior team. These teams will be announced before the season starts.

During the season the varsity will play against the University of Pennsylvania, Cornell, and Columbia, and the reserve will play against the University of Notre Dame, Harvard, and Yale. The junior team will play against the University of Pennsylvania, Cornell, and Columbia, and the reserve will play against the University of Notre Dame, Harvard, and Yale.

The Beaver basketball team is expected to do well in the coming season.
