UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS HOLDS ITS ANNUAL HELLO DAY

The annual and all inclusive "Hello Day" took place Wednesday on the University of Kansas campus, that day every student and instructor was supposed to greet whomever he met, whether distant or close and he met electrically, with a smile. "Hello" is the true freshman who finds himself a stranger at any time anywhere. This is an attitude which University of Kansas is to be fostered to adhere to the traditions of this institution. Defenders against the traditions of the university will be promptly patted on some half smile at each meeting in the future.

put them in shape for Saturday's game.

Last year's center, Henry Routting, has been working well in his efforts to lead his old position again. When the coach is ready to pick his team and start against Williams next Wednesday, he is sure to have trouble deciding on the pivot man. Morris Coleman has never been slow by any means. Cyl Bloom has always known how to fill the position when he was shifted in there. In this match, Cyl will have to be going as for the center job.
