COLLEGIATE HARMONY

It is almost invariably the case that when two institutions exist in close proximity rivalry manifests itself. This condition is usually explained by the present industrialism and to some extent the Harvard spirit of rivalry, especially of the type which accompanies other competitive institutions. Such rivalry has grown based upon misunderstanding in the minds of the students. The average Technology student is too young to accept hearsay evidence without a very careful judgment of the truth for himself. Very few are taken into consideration the fact that Harvard has given itself ample aid to institute activities on several occasions. In most cases the recent gift of Harvard for a shell for the use of our campus has been explained as a truce. To substantiate this may be seen a trivial matter, but to accept the gift without after being probed to work for years with legitimate equipment, is a gift which appears to be little short of a God-send. And then, Harvard has freely supplied apparatus and times for Technology crew races.

Women, however, are better acquainted with the friendly rivalry to the home town and the international perception of the sex. Let us remember that true rivalry is a friendly rivalry. It is the same quality in our results.

TECHNOLOGY FORUM IS NOW SPEAKER'S CLUB
Will Supply Men to Advertising Organizations

The Technology Forum which has been in existence at the close of the last academic year has organized itself into an enlarged organization known as the Technology Forum for Supply Men of Advertising Organizations. The committee which was drawn up on a temporary basis is now a more permanent committee with the active help of other colleges which fit the needs of the University.

The first object of the Club is to afford a means by which a man may increase his ability to present his ideas. In a business and technical field, the training in public speaking is necessary.

The second is accomplished through the means of the committee which any student may attend. At the present interest in public speaking will come on some current question, after which the committee will hold a discussion. This discussion may be in the form of a question or an argument on the merit of the individual. The purpose of such a conference is to analyze the quality of the argument and to prepare the ideas of the individual for better presentation.

A third service will be given in the form of trips to the different advertising organizations. There will be ten-minute speakers who will advertise the activities of any society or publication. The speeches will be given to the students in the forum to prepare them for different speaking engagements. The requirement for membership is a member of the forum or in public. During the period of the College or of the Forum, candidates will be admitted in a limited manner. The full membership will be decided at that time.

At the second meeting of the club which was held last Tuesday, about 400 men, including those who were not members of the Club, became members by filling out the membership form available at that time.
