Will Play All His Popular
Hits from Greenwich
Village Follies

JOE BROWN WILL BE
CO-STAR WITH LEWIS

Few Remaining Tickets Will
Be on Sale Today—Stag
Tickets for $2

"Of course I'll play 'Down the Old Church Aisles,' and all my other popular pieces at the Sophomore Hop Friday night," said Ted Lewis when being interviewed yesterday. "I can't tell you yet what all I shall play, but I'll play 'Bells of India,' 'When My Baby Smiles at Me,' 'Sally, Come Back to Our Alley,' and all the rest of them."

Walter Johnson will start the dance off with his best seven piece orchestra at 9 o'clock. Lewis and his band will arrive about 10:30 to stir things up. Joe Brown, the Greenwich Village Follies Comedian with the capriciously comical mouth, has promised to be around to make the party complete.

Ted Lewis' Band consists of trumpet, trombone, drums and piano, with Lewis himself on the saxophone. The music for the dancing, however, will be furnished by Walter Johnson.

There will be 15 dances on the program, with an intermission following the seventh. The few remaining tickets will be on sale in the main lobby today. The committee announces that stag tickets may be purchased in the lobby or at the door for $2 each.

As the Faculty dining room will be used by the Naval Engineers, refreshments will not be served there, but the grill will be used. The chaperones will be: Mrs. R. C. MacLaurin, Mrs. H. P. Talbot, Mrs. E. F. Miller, Mrs. L. M. Passano, and Mrs. E. W. Rollins.

INSTITUTE MAN WILL MAKE PASSENGER TRIPS

Flew Here From Long Island in Curtis

Basil Gordon, a special student in Aeronautical Engineering at the Institute, is soon going to begin making public passenger flights. The flying field will be either Revere Beach or Framingham, according to which location offers the most favorable conveniences. Gordon has a Canuck biplane carrying one passenger and pilot, with a Curtis OX5 90 horse-power engine. The plane is practically new and has a total flying time of but 7 hours.

The pilot will be H. Morton Cronk, who has been flying for the National Advisory Committee as a test pilot at Langley Field, Va. Gordon and Cronk have recently arrived at Boston from Long Island, making good time on the trip. Their time from Mitchell Field, L. I., to Hartford was 1 hour 23 minutes, and from Hartford to Framingham 1 hour and 9 minutes. Their rates for taking passengers on trips conform with the standard charge which is one dollar per minute in the air. The flying field will be definitely announced later when Gordon has been able to determine where he can obtain the best location.

SPRING CONCERT WILL BE HELD AT SOMERSET

Climax of Musical Season
Expected to Rival Prom
in Brilliancy

TICKETS ON SALE MONDAY

The annual Spring Concert of the Musical Clubs, for which reserved tickets will be on sale Monday at 12 o'clock, promises to rival the Prom itself in elaborateness of arrangement. The concert and dance will be the first Institute affair of the year at the Hotel Somerset. The general manager announced that the affair is being held at the Somerset as the result of the general sentiment in the Institute. Many favor the Somerset's somewhat smaller and cosier ball-room, who hardly care for the vastness of the Copley two nights in succession, and yet feel that Walker is hardly ornate enough in which to stage so integral a part of Junior Week.

The concert program, announced by the general manager, will be one hour in length and will start at 8.15 o'clock. The numbers on which the Clubs have been working since the time of the Winter Concert will constitute a program entirely different from that presented at the Copley in January.

Concert is Climax of Season

The management of the Clubs is now working on the perfection of plans for this concert which is the climax of the spring season's performances. The refreshments, which will be served during the intermission after the fifth dance in the order, will consist of a light dinner, and tables will be reserved for couples desiring to sit together. A new and improved system of looking up partners will be arranged and the dances will be broken up by events, the nature of which the management would not disclose.

Simplify Ticket Sale

The step taken by the management in abolishing the nuisance of signups, should simplify the ticket sale. At the booth in the main lobby Monday, the reserved tickets themselves will be available at the price of $6 per couple. Preliminary dance orders will also be available at this time. The treasurer has requested that men wishing to sit together and who want a block of tickets send one of their number to stand in line as this will save the time of the other men and also simplify the sale.

The dance order is now being compiled by the Jazz Band and will be available for publication in Monday's TECH. At this time the matrons will also be announced.

WALKER COMMITTEE STARTS COMPETITION

The Walker Memorial Committee announces a competition open to freshmen and Sophomores. All candidates are expected to report at a meeting to be held in the West Lounge in Walker Memorial at 5 o'clock on Monday, April 3.

There will be three freshmen selected at the end of the competition and two of these will be finally elected. Two Sophomores will also be elected to the committee.

After the banquet, speeches of short duration were made by the members of the retiring Staff, and by the new department heads. The following men gave addresses: J. C. Patty '22, R. S. Hall '22, E. A. Ash '22, B. P. Lane '23, F. G. Harmon '23, R. K. Turner '23, and B. W. Thoron '22.

A talk on early experiences and reminiscences was given by R. A. St. Laurent '21, in which were many amusing and interesting incidents. Mr. Lobdell, Secretary of the Engineering College Magazine Association, greeted the new board and spoke of the progress that has been made in college publications.

NO AMATEUR COACH FOR BEAVER CREWS

Athletic Association Unable to Complete Planned
Arrangements

LAUNCH READY SOON

The arrangements for a varsity crew coach at Technology are again thrown into the air. The Advisory Council on athletics had hoped to secure the services of an amateur coach, but was unable to conclude satisfactory arrangements with the man they had in mind. This will mean another week's delay at least before a coach can be installed to take charge of the oarsmen. At present Captain McCurdy and Manager Doc Smith are doing their best, but it is a hard job for them to keep their eyes on the men and give them the proper coaching.

Crews Getting Ready

At present there are three varsity and two freshman crews working out on the river. In spite of their lack of practice they are getting rapidly into form, and both the varsity and junior varsity eights will be in shape when they meet the fast Navy shells in the opening meet at Annapolis. The midshipmen were intercollegiate champions the spring before last, and were runner up to Princeton last season. With practically the same men rowing the Navy veterans will present a formidable opposition to the Engineer oarsmen.

Forty new Naval sweeps have been obtained. These are two inches shorter than regulation, and so will be used for practice only. The new sweeps from Harvard will be reserved for races. The long anticipated coaching launch will soon be ready for delivery, and is expected by the middle of next week.

COLLEGE GYM TEAM STAGE COMPETITION IN WALKER TONIGHT

Navy Expected to Carry Home
Laurels—Princeton Shows
Well Balanced Team

N. Y. U. AND TIGER TEAMS
HAVE CHANCE FOR SECOND

Meet Has Aroused General
Collegiate Interest
—Many Entries

The way things appear at present there is very little room to doubt that tonight's Intercollegiate Gym Championships to be held in Walker Gym at 7:30 o'clock, will be tinged with a strong Navy flavor, despite the strong list of entries. The Naval Academy is headed for first honors, having copied last year's intercollegiate with a tally of 23. Penn grabbed second place with 10, one point the better of New York University's position. Princeton and Haverford University tied for fourth place with four apiece, Technology obtained a 3 and Chicago closed the account with a one point tally. This year's list of entries runs the Navy as the favorite with N. Y. University and Princeton strong contestants for second place. The other positions will be fought for by Technology, Dartmouth, University of Pennsylvania, Rutgers, Haverford, and Yale, Chicago University being unable to compete at the last moment.

Navy Overwhelms All Opponents

The size of the scores resulting in the four dual meets that the Navy has had so far this year is ample manifestation of the sort of team that they have turned out. It overwhelmed the Beavers 52-2, cleaned up Dartmouth 49-5, whipped both Penn and N. Y. U. with a lead of 45 in each case, Penn rating 8 and N. Y. U. making 9. Princeton managed to come through her meet with the Academy gymnasts with the most favorable score of all, 43-11.

Princeton Ranks High

Princeton, although badly handled by the Annapolis aggregation, won all her other meets of the season, whipping Harvard by the same score that the Navy trounced Dartmouth, 45-5, defeating Yale 35-19, and taking first place in the triangular meet with Dartmouth and Penn, the last trailing in the tally of 45-11-10. Dartmouth has lost to Navy, and Princeton, and defeated Harvard 30-25, and lost to Yale 25-29. The Elis followed this year's customary procedure with Harvard, taking the large end of a 34½-19½ score, defeating Dartmouth and losing to Princeton.

Haverford a Dark Horse

PROM NUMBER OF VOO DOO LARGEST ISSUE OF YEAR

Voo Doo's joke riveters are hard at work on the Prom Number. This issue will be sixteen pages larger than the usual size, and the management avers that every page will scintillate with sparks of wit. The joke-smiths, condemned to idleness in the phenomenal Girls' Number, expect to burst forth with all the genius that the celestial flame can inspire. The Prom Number will appear on the stands a few days before Junior Week, and will thus be on hand in time for the Prom and the other events of the recess. The issue will be the largest of the year, and its editors affirm that it will be the best as well.
