Method of Giving Out First
Paddle Will Be Kept
a Mystery

Junior Week activities will begin Saturday afternoon with Technique Rush, which will take place in the Great Court promptly at 2:00 o'clock. In previous years it has been customary to have a preliminary parade and entertaining features. The program this year will be along similar lines, but in addition it has been announced that there will be an entirely new feature. The nature of this event has not been made public, but it has been promised by the Board that it will be entirely original and unduplicated in any college parade up to the present time.

Following out the custom of previous years, there will be twenty numbered paddles distributed during the course of the Rush. The method of giving out the first paddle has usually been known, but it has not been announced this year just how it will be accomplished, and according to the Board, it is to be kept a mystery until the Rush.

Paddles to be Redeemed for Books

Immediately after the parade, the first paddle will make its appearance, but it will not be apparent to anyone where it will come from. Following the first paddle, the remaining nineteen will be put through the roof of the Technique hut at one minute intervals. The winners of these will be entitled to copies of Technique which have been autographed by Elihu Thompson, the acting President of the Institute. The first, second, third, fourth and twentieth paddles will be good for a free copy of Technique.

All men intending to enter the Rush must show a paid in full sign-up. The sign-ups are now being redeemed in the main lobby every day from 12 to 2. The redemption campaign will continue until Friday, when the booth will be open from 9 to 5. All men who redeem their sign-ups before the end of the campaign will be able to get the book immediately after the Rush upon presenting the blue card that they will receive. Those who neglect to do this in time may get their copies by presenting their sign-up and $2.50 at the Technique office on or after Monday, April 17. This opportunity will hold for two weeks only, and sign-ups which remain unredeemed after this time will be considered invalid.

MUSICAL CLUBS REST BEFORE SPRING CLIMAX

Mt. Holyoke Concert Attended by Men from Many Colleges

The Combined Musical Clubs are enjoying a hard earned rest before they reach the climax of the season next Monday night at the Spring Concert to be given at the Somerset. In the past six days the Clubs have played at four concerts and have had every chance to perfect their style. Concerts in Weston last Thursday and at the Salem Normal School last Friday night were attended by capacity crowds.

Saturday afternoon the Clubs left Boston for Mt. Holyoke College. Upon arriving at South Hadley the men were received by a committee of Sophomores and entertained at dinner.

Mt. Holyoke Concert Popular Event
The concert which was staged in Mt. Holyoke College Hall was one of the best attended events of the college year. The audience was composed of students from practically every college in the East.

Last night the Clubs were co-partners with several musical organizations from representative New England colleges in a concert at the annual banquet of the Associated Railway Men of New England at the Copley Plaza.

at Smoker

TALKS ON MERCHANT SHIPS

"Government Ownership and the American Merchant Marine" is to be the subject of a talk by Joseph W. Powell to the Naval Architectural Society tonight. Mr. Powell has been connected with most of the large shipbuilding companies of the United States and is an authority upon the subject. The smoker is to be held in the Faculty dining room of Walker at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Powell was offered the senior vice-presidency and general management of the Emergency Fleet Corporation in the fall of 1921. At that time he could not see his way clear to accept the position, but was prevailed upon by the Shipping Board to undertake the organization of several of the departments. Among the departments that he organized were the financial, accounting and sales department, including the sale of ships, shipyards and the organization of the general offices of the Corporation. For this service Mr. Powell refused to receive any compensation, saying that he undertook the work as a public service.

MOVIES WILL RECORD SENIOR WEEK EVENTS

Graduating Class to Appear in Films Featuring
Activities

Present plans of the Arrangements Committee of the Senior Class call for every man to turn actor. Negotiations are being carried on with a view to having a moving picture record of the events of Senior Week.

It will probably be impracticable to take pictures indoors as special lighting arrangements would be necessary. However, several reels will be made on the picnic and as many other functions as possible.

The films will be placed in charge of the class secretary or left with the film company. At class reunions and other gatherings these pictures will be thrown on the screen and the men carried back to the Institute for a few minutes. If results are satisfactory succeeding classes will probably adopt this method of perpetuating their history.

The committee in charge consists of J. A. Bowers '22, and A. R. Tonon '22.

Comes to Technology
Highly Praised

The Combined Professional Societies have arranged an address by a well known speaker, Mr. Frank Branch Riley of Oregon, to be given Thursday at 4 o'clock in 5-330. Mr. Riley was selected by joint action of the Legislatures of Washington and Oregon and the Parliament of British Columbia as the man best qualified to carry the message of the Pacific Northwest to the people of America, and is at present on his fifth continental tour.

The title of his address is "The Lure of the Great Northwest," and will include a description of what he calls "The Last West—the end of the White Man's Trail." He will continue with an exposition of "the world's greatest out of doors."

To this he will add sidelights on the industrial potentiality and the companion activities of the American States of Oregon and Washington and the Province of British Columbia in the preparations incidental to the prosecution of the Great War.

To Tell of Scenic Beauties

Among his other remarks, he will tell of adventures of mountaineering in the high ranges of the Cascades, giving descriptions of the sea, mountains, lakes and rivers, scenic highways, and the contrast of modern cities and the great forests, which he says are the challenge and invitation of this country to every American and Canadian.

In professional life Mr. Riley is a member of the Oregon Bar, having trained at Leland Stanford Jr. University and the Harvard Law School. He is the author of magazine articles on ice mountain climbing and exploration, and on Public Highways, and is a member of that mountain climbing organization known as the Mazamas, of which he was once president. Mr. Riley was also a founder and vice president for Oregon of the Pacific Highway Association, which so successfully promoted the great Oregon-Washington Columbia River Bridge.

In short, Mr. Riley's ability as a speaker was such that Mr. L. E. Hayes, Civic Secretary of the Boston City Club, made the following statement after his lecture there: "Mr. Riley's magnificent and inspiring lecture was delivered to an audience of Boston's leading and representative men which filled our great Auditorium to its capacity. Throughout the lecture enthusiasm ran high with frequent outbursts of hearty applause. New England is indebted to the West for this rare treat."
