Institute Golfers Organize Team This Afternoon

SECOND INSTITUTE GOLF TEAM FORMED

Captain Schley and Manager Zane Will Speak to Candidates

FOUR VETERANS TO PLAY

All the Institute's golfers will gather this afternoon at 5 o'clock in room 10-275, for the opening meeting of the season. Manager John Zane will outline the spring program and Captain Henry Schley will speak to the candidates. Not a minute of time is to be lost in getting the players started on their practice rounds since the first tournament is only four weeks in the future.

A golf team was organized at Technology for the first time last spring. Four of the veterans who will be available this year are Captain Schley, Jahn Ballard, Abbot Johnson and Fritz Clement. With this quartet as a nucleus little difficulty ought to be experienced in building a really first class organization.

Successful Last Year

Last year the Cardinal and Gray golfers took part in five intercollegiate matches four of which they won. Brown, Williams, Harvard and Amherst were defeated. The crimson was conquered, 9-0. Dartmouth won its match with the Institute, and later secured the intercollegiate championship. The Engineers planned to enter the intercollegiate tournament but were prevented from doing so by conflicts with summer school.

The Woodland course has been arranged for and Captain Schley's men will get most of their practice and will play their home contests on the Woodland greens.

Varsity Golf Schedule

May 13—Williams at Worcester.
May 17—Harvard at Brae Burn.
May 25—Amherst at Woodland.
May 27—Yale at Woodland.
Merrimac Valley C. C. at Merrimac Valley, date undecided.

Sophomore Ball Team Plays First Game Tomorrow

The sophomore baseball team goes to Andover tomorrow afternoon for its first game of the season, the contest also being the first for the prep school nine. Owing to the small number of men who have been reporting for practice, there is no certainty as to who will go into tomorrow's game, and the practice this afternoon will have a good deal to do with it. The pitching staff is especially in need of new material, there are several good pitchers in the class who have not been coming out to practice with any degree of dependability, and a minor injury to Guy Canfield's arm has made it quite likely that his work cannot be counted on. The lack of competition for all positions on the team has led to a slowing down of the work, and new men will be very welcome.

Andover should have the edge on the sophs tomorrow for the coach has a wealth of material to work with.

Bill Gurney Wins Quarter Mile Trial in Last Race Before Interclass Meet

Six of the Institute's best ran a hard fought race yesterday afternoon for places on the mile relay which is to go to Philadelphia a week from Saturday. The competition was of the keenest all the way around track but Bill Gurney uncorked a sprint at the finish that carried him over the line in front. Jack Poole was close at his heels with Yard Chittick right behind him. Bill Smith didn't seem to work quite as hard as he might have and was content to trail in the other three. Tommy Gill and Charley Snow ran close behind the leading four but the veterans of the indoor season's team were not to be replaced.

Yesterday brought all strenuous practice to an end until after the Interclass Meet. The entire squad had a stiff workout. Today is a rest day for most of the track men and tomorrow Coach Kanaly has only light work on the cards so that each man should be ready for the starter's gun Monday afternoon.

Entries Will Not Close

Although the formal list for the program has been made up, Coach Kanaly has announced that any men wishing to compete in the Interclass Meet events can enter right up to the last minute. The purpose of the competition is to give every track man at the Institute an opportunity to show what is in him and lack of experience should not prevent a man from entering. The varsity and freshman teams for the season are to be chosen largely from the results of the meet so there is additional reason for every candidate for a team berth taking part.

Cups for Winners

Cups have been given by various alumni and the activities of the Institute for the winners in each event and medals will go to men placing second and third. If the weather man is only lenient the meet should prove as full of interest and real competition as an intercollegiate one.

First Place Cup Donors

Dr. J. A. Rockwell, 440 yd. dash; Ben Hurd, 120 yd. hurdles; John Bat-chelder, 1 mile; Dr. A. W. Rowe, 100 yd. dash; Henry E. Cummings, 220 yd. hurdles; Voo Doo, 880 yd. run; Varsity Club, high jump; Technique 1923, broad jump; THE TECH, pole vault; Musical Clubs, discus; Tech Show, shot put, and T. A. C., javelin.

FRESHMAN OARSMEN ELECT DAVE CAMPBELL

Two Varsity and First Freshman Boats Row Next Week

The first freshman crew elected Dave Campbell captain after the afternoon's workout yesterday. Dave, who came here from Exeter, was captain of the freshman Field Day oarsmen last fall and fills seat number seven.

A number of changes in the seating of the Cardinal and Gray boats have been made by Coach Stevens and the Institute's first two crews now line-up as follows: Driscoll, one; Weiler, two; Blood, three; Molinar, four; Eaume, five; Ballentyne, six; Captain MacCurdy, seven; Brill, stroke and Reed, coxswain, Evans, one; Rousseau, two; Murdock, three; Dupont, four; Schultz, five; Sayre, six; Nowell, seven; Prouty, stroke, and Glinesbe, coxswain.

Captain Rows Seven

The freshman boat now rows in this order, including substitutes who voted yesterday afternoon: Fielding, one; Blaire and Price, two; Butler and McKenna, three; Harriman, four; Hurlley, five; Leonard, six; Captain Campbell, seven; Prentiss, stroke, and Thorndyke, coxswain.

Things are moving very smoothly up the river since the new coach has taken hold. Practice and plenty of it is in store for all the Technology oarsmen though the three boats named above are due for the worst of it next week. They will be on the river every day of Junior Week, and it is expected that many of the minor imperfections will be banished before the first races.

Varsity Tennis Men Report at Longwood

Varsity tennis players have been reporting regularly at the Longwood courts the last few days. The long wait for well conditioned courts has made them anxious to get into daily practice games in preparation for the Brown match at Providence next week Saturday. Every moment from now until then is valuable and reports of improvement in form are coming in. Lyman Tremaine, who was out of it last year due to sickness, is back again. His improvement over his old game is marked. Tremaine is showing good form. With better luck than last year he should have little trouble in becoming a regular on the team.

In a return rifle match with Georgetown, Boston University settled a former tie by winning with a score of 498 to Georgetown's 495.
