

INSTITUTE TRACK TEAM READY FOR CRIMSON INVADERS SATURDAY

Tennis Players Seek Win Over Williams Friday; Meet Cornell Saturday

Varsity tennis men are in for a couple of hard tournaments when the Institute team meets Williams College Friday and Cornell University Saturday. The Longwood courts at Chestnut Hill will be the scene of the two tournaments. Both should prove spirited engagements, especially the one with Cornell Saturday.

This is the first time that any Institute squad has ever faced a Cornell team. The Ithacan players are reported very strong this year and the calibre of the Engineers will be measured by the showing they make against them. Last year the varsity squad barely squeezed out a victory over Williams, even with men as able as Cauldwell and Brookman, who are now graduates, performing. The score then was 4 to 3, and was undecided until the last match was played.

Captain Scott and Roger Carver will bear the brunt of the burden Friday afternoon, with Lyman Tremaine, Louis Hobbs, Ted Storb, and Stuart Gourley probably making up the rest of the team. Ted Storb and Gourley are both likely choices since they have been showing up well in practice. Both have won three rounds in the elimination tournament. Ted's third victory in the tournament was over B. P. Lane, whom he defeated 6-4, 6-1. Gourley reported a third win by default when C. L. Dunn failed to show up.

R. E. Rowse is captain at Williams this year and he is sure to bring a strong array of players who will be able to give stiff opposition to the varsity squad. If victory favors the Institute players it will again be by a slight margin, unless the collegians do not show up with their usual wares.

Tremaine and Hobbs have already gone through the paces this spring when they faced enemies in the Brown tournament two weeks ago. Each won his singles match as well as the doubles. This showing should prove a favoring factor when the choice for players in the two tournaments is made.

Eliminations Over Soon

The match of M. L. Tressel vs. S. Gordon is the only one of the four third round matches on which returns have not been reported. With the elimination of the lesser lights the tournament will soon be able to show a winner. W. L. Barclay, Jr., and H. F. Hayden have played their third round match with the former, winning 6-3, 6-3. Of those remaining on the fourth round schedule either Ted Storb or Stuart Gourley seem to have the edge on the other players, and either may pull through a winner of the tournament. Since Storb and Gourley are the opponents in the next match the winner can easily be picked as soon as their sets have been played

RIFLE TEAM WINS IN OUTDOOR MATCH

Marksman Defeat Norwich in Spite of Blustery Wind

The Engineer outdoor rifle team captured its first match Saturday afternoon, when it trimmed the crack Norwich University team with a score of 378-373. This compensates for the hiding which Norwich gave the Institute squad during the indoor season, when the Beavers got the short end of a 499-496 score.

The Technology marksmen ran up a total of 185 out of 200 at 300 yards, and 193 at 500 yards, making a total score of 378 out of a possible 400 points. The shooting was done at the Wakefield range. The wind was extremely annoying, blowing all afternoon in strong and irregular gusts which made the accurate setting of sights almost impossible. The conditions under which the Norwich team fired are not known, but they could scarcely have been worse than those the Engineers had to face.

Next Saturday's match will probably be with Yale. The arrangements for this match have not been completed, but Manager Lund expects to hear from Yale within the next two days. He states that the Beavers should have little trouble with the Eli team after having defeated Norwich. The Norwich team took second place in the recent National Intercollegiate Rifle Championship Matches.

FROSH OUTPLAY RINDGE

The Freshman Chess Team won its match with the Rindge Technical School by a score of 5 to 1. All the games except one were finished during the first half hour of playing. The game between Louis Smolensky and Clarke, on the third board, lasted only 5 minutes. Next Saturday the frosh will meet the Chelsea High School team. This match, like the last one, will be played in the Walker Memorial. The freshmen except an easy victory, since they won their last match against Chelsea High by a score of 5 to 3. The summary:

Technology	Rindge Tech.
Wetherill	1 Tonyr
Sprott	1 Billings
Smolensky	1 Clarke
Pote	1 Hochberg
Woodward	0 Gogel
Leahy	1 Alpert

SEATINGS OF FIRST AND SECOND CREWS CHANGED BY COACH

Reorganized Crews Will Be Tested in Races with Norton and Yale

MANY SHIFTS RESULT OF RACE WITH NAVY EIGHTS

Davis Moved from Substitute Position to Berth with Varsity Shell

The races against Annapolis last Saturday gave Coach Stevens his first real opportunity to see what his men could do when pushed the limit. In consequence there has been quite a shakeup in the first two crews, the Cards and the Grays. Homer Davis, a Sophomore, who before last Saturday was rowing on the 150 pound crew, has been changed to bow on the Cards. When Captain McCurdy was ill the day before the Annapolis race Davis, taking the trip as a substitute was seated in his place during the practice row. Evidently he must have shown up mighty well to be changed to a regular varsity berth.

Strokes Exchange Seats

Blood, who formerly held Davis's berth, is seated in the same position on the Greys. Captain McCurdy has changed from seven to three on the Cards, Driscoll from that position to seven on the Greys, replacing Nowell who is holding McCurdy's old seat. The two strokes have exchanged positions, Brill now stroking the Grays and Dunleavy the Cards.

Sayre has moved from six on the Grays to four on the Cards, changing places with Valentine. With these changes the two shells are taking the water with the following seatings: Cards: bow, Davis; 2. Molinar; 3. Captain McCurdy; 4. Sayre; 5. Eaton; 6. Greatwood; 7. Nowell; stroke, Dunleavy; cox, Kean. Grays: bow, Blood; 2. Wailer; 3. Murdoch; 4. duPont; 5. Scholtz; 6. Valentine; 7. Driscoll; stroke, Brill; cox, Folinabee.

Varsity To Row Norton

These changes have made but little difference in the average weight of the two crews. If anything the Cards have gained a little in that respect. Coach Stevens will be given an opportunity to see how his newly organized combinations pan out before the races Saturday.

The varsity will row over the Henley course on the Charles River against the Norton Boat Club. The race will take place at 4:30, before the triangular event between Annapolis, Princeton and Harvard over the same course. The seconds and the first freshman crew will meet the Yale section and freshman crews over the New Haven course.

Practically no change has been made in the yearling lineup. McKennan is sick, but he is expected to be back on the job before the trip to New Haven. All of the crews, especially the freshmen who need it most, have been taking long workouts of from six to eight miles.

Sophomore and Freshman Nines Open Five Game Series Today

The rival Sophomore and freshman nines clash this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the Institute ball field in the first contest of the scheduled five games series. The keenest of competition is to be expected when the class teams meet as both aggregations are looking forward to this series as the climax of the season and a win will mean much to the contestants. The series will be a best three out of five affair and today's game is regarded as important as giving the winner the jump on its opponent for the rest of the games. In general the classes are evenly matched though an advantage in battery work is said to rest with the Sophs. Probably the weakest spot on the yearling nine is behind the bat for the candidates for the catcher's berth don't seem able to hold Bill Cooke's steamy delivery.

Both Teams Have Met Defeat

Both nines have turned in poor records for the games played thus far, due mostly to the fact that they have been up against better coached and better organized teams. However the scores do not show everything; the Soph game with Dean was one of the hardest on the schedule, and that the margin in favor of Dean was not larger was due to some mighty fast playing on the part of Earle Bates's aggregation. The freshman team can not be judged by the results of games such as the Andover one, for Andover is represented by an exceptionally fast team this season.

Sophs Take One Game

The Sophomore game with B. U. last Saturday ended in a walkaway for the home team; three B. U. boxmen offered their best but were hit pretty hard. This is the only game in which the Sophs have come out on top, their colors coming down for Exeter and Dean. The frosh have not turned in a victory and for this reason they are all the more anxious to put it over on the '24 aggregation today. While the chances look small the game is sure to be a hot one, for class spirit has been brought up to a high point before the opening of the series.

TECHNOLOGY RUNNERS MEET HARVARD SATURDAY

Ray Buker's recent performance in the two mile at the Penn Carnival marks him out as the star collegiate athlete in that event. A triumph in the I. C. A. A. A. seems to be in store for him as well as a win in the New England Championships. In the latter, Bob Hendrie, next year's harrier captain, should provide Ray's best competition but at that Bob cannot hope to endanger Bates' distance man

This Saturday the forecasters of the intercollegiate championships will have their first big opportunity to compare and choose from the stars in action. Besides our own rumpus with the Crimson here on Tech Field there are two other important dual meets scheduled, Princeton and Yale at New Haven and Dartmouth and Penn at Hanover.

The work of the Engineer track men in the javelin throw has shown good development for the first season that the event has been taken up here at the Institute, and it is rather expected that Boli and Toton will have the edge on the Harvard competitors but the recent breaking of the American record by Moose Angier of Illinois with a throw of 202 feet 9 1/2 inches, indicates plenty of room for improvement.

Hill, the Princeton weight star, broke all precedents when he won the shot put at the Penn Carnival though still in his freshman year. Hill will be remembered as the one who created a mild sensation as a potential Beaver weight man during his short stay at the Institute last fall before he went to Princeton. With the Engineer's present weakness in the shot it seems that the Tigers secured a valuable man from us when he changed over.

Fiske Brown, Harvard captain and star weight man, lost his chance to score at Philadelphia through fouling out of the ring. The University leader will have to get over this old habit of his if he doesn't want to upset the dope sheet Saturday by giving the Beavers a couple of points now in the crimson column.

Harvard Boasts Star in Two Mile. However the dope was apparently upset by the news from the crimson camp that Coach Bingham has discovered a new star in the two mile in the person of Eddie Lund. Eddie made his first bid for fame in the Virginia and Navy meets so that he has come to be reckoned as a possible danger for Saturday. His performances to date do not rate him on a par with Art Flanders but he may be able to make trouble nevertheless.

Southern Trip Not Successful. The University certainly gained no laurels in the recent Southern trip. The win over Virginia was by only a slight margin and reflected little more credit upon the victor than upon the vanquished, while at Annapolis the Navy handed Harvard a decisive trimming. It must be allowed to the crimson that it was a bit short handed and that its men were not yet trained down as fine as they ought to have been. Still if the season was young for Harvard it was nearly as much so for the Navy and the middies had a finished team on the cinders to meet them.

Judged from the viewpoint of past performances, therefore the clash with the crimson will not be as serious as the one on May 13 with Navy but the University has a disconcerting habit of never knowing when it's beaten.
