

TRACK INTERCOLLEGIATES IN STADIUM SATURDAY WILL BE CLOSED

I.C.A.A.A. Games Bring Collegiate Stars to Harvard

A little notice under the bulletin board in the track house for the men of the Senior class is just one more indication of the reason why Coach Kanaly so thoroughly enjoys the confidence and loyalty of the athletes who train under him. The Coach's message is as follows:

Seniors: This week is probably the last time we may meet before your graduation. To you all I wish to extend my thanks for your support to our track athletics during the past four years.

I hope as you go out into the world the training may prove beneficial; that your path be neither too rough nor the ascent too steep to discourage you but just enough of each to make success more sweet.

Sincerely yours,
FRANK M. KANALY

Bob Hendrie of the Beavers is due to make himself noticed also. Buker's recent victory over Bob shows the Engineer star can not hope for highest honors but whoever trims him will know he's met a worthy foe and a game one.

Sophomore Baseball Team Holds Fifth Infantry to Three Runs for Seven Innings; Final Score 9-1

After holding the Fifth Infantry nine, for two years the champions of the A. E. F., to three runs in eight innings of a hotly contested game Monday afternoon, the Sophomore team went to pieces and was beaten 9 to 1 by a last inning rally of the army team.

Manning Lands on Homer

Shorty Manning started the good work for the Sophs when he landed on the opening ball of the game and clouted a homer over the center-fielder's head, and was cheered lustily for his efforts. Lou Michelena tried to follow him up with another one, but was a little too anxious and was retired by Billy Sunday, the rangy army twirler. Stoop Clark was next on the list, and his drive proved to be too hot for the shortstop to handle, with the result that Stoop went to second. Walterskirchen looked too good to the pitcher when he came up to the plate, and was given a ticket to first. Then Billy Sunday tightened up a bit and fanned Bud Robertson and Mink.

Army Scores Twice

Frazier, the first army man to face Walt Kennett, drove a liner into Shorty Manning and was promptly retired. Three singles put Walt in the hole with three men on, and Walt hit Major MacAlpin, the army third sacker, driving in the second tally. A fast double play, Manning to Robinson to Walters, sent the soldiers to the bench with a one run lead. In the second frame, Bill Robinson's grounder was handled by the shortstop and Bill thrown out at first, Dick Chapin fanned, Walt Kennett was given a trip to first, and Shorty was the third out on a drive to the shortstop. Army added another tally in the second.

No Score in Third

Bud Robertson and Walters went on base in the third on a pass and a single, but were left there when the army infield tightened up and retired the side. The soldiers were handed the same treatment by the Soph fielders, Mich, Shorty, and Bill Robinson accounting for three outs. In the third, Bill Robinson led off with a double, but was nipped at second, Kennett, Manning, and Mich got on base and it looked as if the service twirler was in a bad hole, but his infield pulled together in good shape and cleaned up the inning. Walt Kennett put the lid on in the last of the fourth and fanned two of his opponents, while Walters took care of the other one at first.

Fifth Inning Fast

Walters and Bud Robertson fell prey to the lanky Sunday in the fifth, Mink being the only one to connect with the pill, and he was thrown out at second on a nice peg from the catcher. The sixth was no more favorable to the Sophs, for the first three men to face the mound were retired in short order. Two hits allowed the army men to advance as far as third base but they were stopped there when Walt got his arm behind the ball and fanned Sunday, his rival on the mound.

Army Scores Big in Eighth

Sunday retaliated for being fanned by handing out the same dose to five of the Sophs in the last three innings, Clark being the only man to see first after the sixth. Guy Canfield replaced Walt Kennett in the box in the seventh and held the soldiers without a hit for one inning, but in the eighth they began to pound him, and six more runs were driven in.

Sophs Deserve Credit for Showing

The fact that the Sophs were defeated does not at all tell the story of the game. Lieut. Dunlop, the big first sacker of the army nine, has been one of the best clouters in the A. E. F. league for the last two years, his work in the last championship game played by his team being the cause of their winning the title. Major McAlpin, who directs the team from the third sack, is another player who knows his business, and the fact that such an aggregation was held down for seven innings by the Sophs augurs well for the team.

Tomorrow afternoon the freshman ballplayers battle the Institute army ordnance nine, at 4 o'clock on Tech diamond. The frosh are anxious to get some hard practice before the next series game with '24 and they are due to have about all they can handle in tomorrow's game since the ordnance outfit has played real ball this spring.

The next series game, by the way, is on Saturday afternoon. According to the Sophomore point of view this will wind up the scheduled five game contest, since the standing now is—Soph 2, freshmen 1. Walt Metcalf's cohorts, on the other hand, intimate that the fifth game will be found to be far out of the fifth wheel family.

There is no comparison between the shiftless sort of ball that was played on Tech diamond last spring, and the sport as its being presented by the class teams just now. Well played and interesting applies to almost every one of the contests.

There isn't an infielder in the business that could have touched the four scorchers the Army sent between Stoop Clark and Manning in the eighth. All the drives were labelled base hit and neither the third baseman nor the short stop had a chance to lay a glove on them.

nearly collapsed. He finally downed his Green opponent.

The teams are competing for a eight point cup. Technology now has a slight lead over Dartmouth in the race, while Amherst is above the both. The position of runner up worth one-half point, and since the Engineers are in both the singles and doubles finals their score will total at least, one point. Taking the most optimistic view of things for the Harvard team, it can score two points since each winner gets a point.
